HIGH SCHOOL SITE IS DISCUSSED AT CLUB MEETING

Several Views Expressed by Citizens; Replacing Water Mains Also Considered

At the regular meeting of the Southern Glendale Improvement club, which was held last night in the branch library building, with Stuart M. Street presiding, the questions of a high school site, equitable manner of securing funds for replacement of water mains and other civic matters were discussed with members of the Glendale Foothill Improvement association and Oak Street Improvement association, who were present, and committees were appointed to investigate.

Alex Mitchell, president of the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, spoke on the proposed location of a high school site, stating that that organization, which has a membership of about 200, was of the opinion that same should be located as near the geographic center of the city as possible and that it was believed that the city of Eagle Rock would have its own high school within two or three years. He also stated further that, not including Eagle Rock, there were more pupils attending the high school from the west side of Brand boulevard than from the east.

Views Are Expressed

J. R. Grey also spoke very convincingly on this question.

Kemper B. Campbell expressed himself as being in favor of separate high schools for the girls and boys, suggesting that the present site be used for the girls and that another site be purchased for the boys' high school, and stated statistics showing the advisability of it.

Dr. W. C. Mabry expressed himself as believing that the site chosen by the committee from the Chamber of Commerce, at Broadway and Verdugo road was quite suitable for a new high school site.

Stuart M. Street appointed a committee consisting of Kemper B. Campbell and Dr. W. C. Mabry to investigate the matter of a suitable high school site and to attend the

BUSINESS MEN OF CITY TO RECEIVE CREDIT REPORTS

Organization to Be Formed as Result of Discussion by Local Merchants

With approximately $375 monthly revenue assured from the two score of business men represented last night, a meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters for the purpose of forming the Glendale Merchants' Association, which will deal in credit reports.

Enthusiasm for the scheme was evidenced from the very start when C. E. Neale, chairman, told of the benefits. He was followed by J. H. Vandewater, secretary of the Los Angeles association, who spoke at length on the work, which was both amusing and informative in scope.

Illustrates Efficiency

"Plug the loopholes," he told the business men. "Make it impossible for the credit crook to do business."

To illustrate the efficacy of his organization he told of a teacher going from Los Angeles to Porto Rico and owing a bill here. She had to settle before the island merchants would let her have credit.

On motion of Daniel Campbell, president of the Glendale National Bank, a finance and membership committee was named as follows: H. S. Webb, chairman; C. E. Neale and William Neale.

In fifteen minutes' time these men had half enough pledged to make the association a success.

Meet Next Thursday

With a minimum of $5 memberships are being taken and they will be reported at another meeting next Thursday night when formal organization is slated to take place.

Frank H. Pilling, secretary of the Everett, Washington, Merchants' Credit Association, was present at the request of James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and he stated that inducements might be made him to come here. He has had twenty years' experience in the work.

JUSTEMA HOME LEASED

The William Justema home, 140 North Central avenue recently has been leased to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morris of Bellefontaine, Ohio. After spending the summer in a cabin in Sycamore Canyon, the Justema family have moved into another home, purchased by them at Casa Verdugo.

Baron and Baroness Otilly de Ropp, Their Great Estate In Russia Gone as Result of the World War, Come to Glendale to Make Home

Couple Come to America and Try About Everything In Order to Make Living

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Murman of 206 North Central avenue had as their dinner guests last night Baron and Baroness Otilly de Ropp, who were born and educated in Russia and since the war have been making their home in the United States. They have secured a residence on West Windsor Road and are going to make their home in Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Murman and Baron de Ropp were former friends and schoolmates in Riga.

Baroness de Ropp, who has a most interesting and charming personality, spoke last night at the Baptist church, an account of which is given elsewhere in The Glendale Evening News, and is also to be a speaker at the Tuesday Afternoon club November 22. Her subject at that time will be "Rasputin the Hypnotic, the Power Behind the Throne."

Owned Large Estate

Baroness Otilly de Ropp was born and educated in Lithuania, Western Russia, where her parents owned a large estate. As it was the custom of the landed nobility, the girls were not sent to public schools, but were taught at home by Russian, French and German tutors and governesses, and these three languages were also spoken continually in her home. As it took an hour's drive by horses and five hours of railroad traveling to get to the nearest city, Mitau, the capital of Courland, her parents and grandparents had to keep in touch with the world through books, newspapers and magazines, subscribing to over twenty of them, of the most varied kind and some in each of the three languages.

Both before and after her marriage the Baroness traveled much in European countries, especially in France, staying there months at a time. Their estate of 10,000 acres in Russia, 600 acres of which was given over to a private park, have been destroyed by shells during the war. It was after the Germans had completely destroyed their beautiful estate that the Baroness and her husband decided to come to the United States, because they, like the people in Russia, she states, had always great sympathy for America.

All Kinds of Work

Landing in New York City with $135 in the family purse, it took three weeks of dreary job hunting before the Baroness succeeded in getting a position with the Russian commission in that city, and later on both she and her husband worked in Springfield, Mass., with the same commission. Since this commission was dissolved, the Baroness has tried her hand at every kind of work, from

BARONESS OTILLY DE ROPP
Who Spoke at the Baptist Church Last Night and Who Will Speak at the Tuesday Afternoon Club on November 22

No Land So Good as This, Declares Baroness de Ropp

"There is no land so good as this," stated Baroness de Ropp of Russia last night before the Tri-Mu Bible class at the First Baptist church. "You have here everything which should spell success. Every American should live up to the principles of American citizenship.

"Not by preference, but because he has no more money when he lands, the immigrant packs into New York. They have to learn that if they want good things, they have to do their best here, and not think only of themselves but of the good of all."

On the same program a good laugh was secured from the Einstein Theory of Relativity as humorously propounded by Richard E. Smith of Highland Park. R. R. Lockheart gave several songs and comic impersonations.

Officers Elected

The Ellis Club quartette sang several selections. Its accompanist was Howard Aylesworth and its members are J. Fred Rogers, T. G. McDougall, James L. Travis and M. S. Hauser.

K. D. Schwendner, 346 Burchett street, was elected new president of the organization, while Stanley Walker was selected secretary, and Charles Rivers, an assistant secretary. J. L. Gray, 533 North Isabel street, was chosen chairman of the occasion.

After a couple of syncopations by the high school jazz orchestra the party adjourned to the basement of the church where Mr. and Mrs. Jinx presided.

Class Mothers of Intermediate Hold Thursday Meetings

Mrs. W. C. Wattles and Mrs. Frank W. Chambers on Thursday entertained the mothers of the B 7-I class of the Intermediate school from 2 to 5, at the Chambers home at 736 South Glendale avenue. Those present were Mrs. C. A. Harshbarger, Mrs. J. J. Campbell, Mrs. Josephine Fifield, Mrs. Roscoe Aleshire, Mrs. A. W. Glade, Mrs. Mabel Horner, Mrs. Wattles, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Chambers' mother, Mrs. Stiles.

On the same afternoon Mrs. W. S. Ingram of 336 West Broadway, called together her committee of mothers to plan for entertaining all the mothers of the B 8-I's of the same school. These mothers who will assist Mrs. Ingram, are Mrs. A. H. Chapman, Mrs. R. L. Court, Mrs. James H. Searles and Mrs. F. H. Roberts, all of whom were present.

Both groups were inspired with enthusiasm and earnestness concerning the possibilities for good in doing P.-T. A. work at the Intermediate school. This enthusiastic response is the more remarkable when we remember the unusual weather conditions of the day.

The association president, Mrs. W. A. Kulp, was a visitor at each meeting, and reported the desire of the faculty that parents visit the school, and acquaint themselves individually, with the work of the entire school, and particularly of their own offspring. At the first one she asked for donations of aprons for the girls who help serve the lunches at the school cafeteria and received a promise of a sufficient number to meet the requirements.

These class mothers and their assistants expect to keep the mothers of their respective classes closely in touch with all the winter's activities in school and association and just now are looking forward to a most successful fathers' night which will be held next month.

TIME CLOCK FOR STUDENTS

The Glendale Union high school is now a regular factory of learning. Yesterday a time clock stamp was installed. When pupils come late now, the hour and date is stamped upon their tardy slip. Miss Jane Snyder, 112 Arden avenue, is the official timekeeper.

Prisoner Who Escaped Glendale Jail Caught

Out again; in again, and, so far, not gone again!

Henry P. Wilsey, alias George H. Wilson, one of the very few recent visitors in Glendale who did not care to remain permanently, and who left rather suddenly from the "animal" cage in the fire department building Wednesday night, is back in jail again at Pasadena.

Allen O. Martin, local chief of police, received word this morning from Charles H. Kelly, chief of police at Pasadena, that the escaped prisoner, who is charged with forgery, had been captured. Details of the arrest are lacking but it is understood that he was picked up around Needles while he was endeavoring to make his way out of the state. Pasadena and Glendale will co-operate in the prosecution.

"I think the Pasadena police department did very fine work," remarked Chief Martin. "It has one of the finest information bureaus in the United States. There will be a decided effort to find out who assisted him in breaking jail here."

Two Petitions Will Be Presented at Meeting

Two petitions for signatures will be brought to the attention of the meeting of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association in the Council Chamber of the city hall at 7:45 o'clock tonight, it is announced by T. W. Watson, 1101 East Colorado street. One petition asks that Glendale avenue be widened in certain places, the other requests the city authorities to join hands with the association in requesting the Salt Lake Railroad company to make the line an electric one instead of a steam freight line, says Mr. Watson.

There will be several speakers at the meeting this evening, said Mr. Watson, and a large attendance is anticipated.

BREAKUP OF IRISH PEACE PARLEY FAILED TO OCCUR

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The threatened breakup of the Irish peace conference today over the obstacle of recalcitrant Ulster failed to take place. The standpat attitude of the Ulster unionists and Eamonn DeValera's message to the pope saying Ireland would insist upon independence, had cast dark clouds upon the peace horizon when the conference was renewed. The London Times charges irreconciliable forces in England are deliberately working to wreck the Irish conference and that they gained strength from DeValera's telegram to Rome.

PREPARATIONS FOR RAILROAD STRIKE BEING RUSHED

Impasse Reached; Next Move for Settlement Must Come From U. S. Government

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
Written for International News Service

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The United States Railway Labor board this afternoon issued an order citing the railroad officials and leaders of the "big five" brotherhoods to appear before the board on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and give testimony as to whether they have been or are violating decision number 147—the wage cut decision.

All parties concerned were instructed meanwhile to maintain all wage schedules in status quo.

The Board will require the Brotherhood chiefs, it was announced, to show cause why they should not be punished for violating the wage cut decision by calling a strike in protest against it.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Preparations for the biggest railroad strike in the history of the United States were going forward today as a result of the failure of the conference here between the Chiefs of the "Big Four" Railway Brotherhoods and the United States Railway Labor board to reach an agreement. No further parleys have been arranged and, unless a new move toward settlement comes within the next nine days, the walkout set for October 30 will take place.

Both union leaders and railway executives here today frankly admitted that an impasse had been reached. It was generally conceded that the next move toward a settlement must come from the Federal government at Washington. Members of the labor board, while declining to make statements, admitted the conference which they had hoped would accomplish much had been

SERVICE TO START ON DECEMBER 31 INDEPENDENTLY

Office Will Be Raised Into Class Comparative With Income, January 1

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—D. Ripley Jackson's commission as acting postmaster for Glendale, Calif., was forwarded to him today. He takes office when he files bonds with the department.

The Glendale Evening News shortly before noon today received a message from Congressman Walter F. Lineberger stating that D. Ripley Jackson has been appointed acting postmaster.

Following is the telegram received by Mr. Jackson from the congressman:

"I have this date recommended you for appointment as postmaster at Glendale. Following is information regarding this change:

"Under the law and a ruling thereon by the comptroller, every new postoffice must first be ranked as a fourth class office. I have gone into this with the department very carefully and can see no way in which it can be avoided except by introduction and passage of a bill which would, on account of the crowded house calendar, take even longer than the other way.

"The law further provides that any order advancing an office of the fourth class to a higher class shall not take effect until the first day of the quarter next following the order, and I have therefore acted upon my own responsibility and judgment as to which was the best method to secure the earliest and most adequate relief.

"A formal order is now going through the usual routine to make Glendale a fourth class office, which order will be fully signed and countersigned within a few days and will become effective on December 31, at which time there will be no free delivery service, or facilities other than those of a fourth class office.

"The order raising Glendale to its proper status will take effect January 1, and from that date on Glendale will be absolutely independent in every way.

"The time intervening will give full opportunity to have all necessary clerks and carriers appointed and equipment installed so that there will be as little inconvenience as possible in making the change, except during the day when it is necessarily a fourth class office.

"I am confident this solution will be the most satisfactory one to the citizenship of Glendale.

"WALTER F. LINEBERGER."

This assures Glendale of practically no noticeable change in the present service and constant betterment under Postmaster Jackson's orders.

Mr. Jackson is well known here for his instruction of the state's defense forces during the World war, and he had passed the final examinations for a captaincy in the quartermaster's corps when the armistice was signed. He is a resident of 1800 South Brand boulevard, having come here five years ago with his wife from West Orange, N. J., after several years' handling his own affairs on Wall street, New York.

Speaking of how he located in Glendale, he said Steven O. Delgardo, also a resident of this city, was the dining car steward on the westward journey and he told the New York tourist about Glendale, and even described the house on Chestnut street which Mr. Jackson bought.

Where Credit Is Due

"Credit must be given Mr. Delgardo for bringing a future postmaster here," said the captain. "My great grandfather was Adam Bown, one of the builders of Perry's fleet. My father was an officer in the Seventy-first New York infantry."

Mr. Jackson is a member of Al Malaikah shrine, being a thirty-second degree Mason. He also is a vestryman in St. Marks' Episcopal church here and director of music. In this regard he is like Mayor Spencer Robinson, a singer of note in New York.

One of the appointee's first official acts was to join the Chamber of Commerce this morning, giving Assistant E. F. Sanders a check for a full year's membership.

HIGH SCHOOL SITE IS DISCUSSED AT CLUB MEETING

Several Views Expressed by Citizens; Replacing Water Mains Also Considered

mass meeting, which is to be held at the high school next Tuesday night, October 25, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of considering the recommendation of the committee from the Chamber of Commerce in regard to this matter.

Replacing Water Mains

Edward Carvel of the Oak Street Improvement association spoke on the matter of financing the replacement of water mains, calling attention to the fact that all patrons of the public service department are paying bond redemption and interest on the recent $260,000 water bond election, which included a large amount for the replacement of mains. However, this replaced mains in only a small part of the city and he stated that the matter of replacing water mains in all other parts of the city is now proposed to be done by assessing the property owners on the street, where the mains would be replaced.

In this manner, he stated, people in one section of the city would only be paying a small amount, through the water rates, for bond redemption and interest, while the rest of the city would be paying not only this amount but would also be assessed direct for replacement of mains in their districts.

The Oak Street Improvement association, he stated, were opposed to this manner of financing this proposition, and asked that the Southern Glendale Improvement club appoint a committee to investigate. Myron Griswold and Dr. W. C. Mabry were appointed.

Removal of Trees

Mr. Street reported that the committee appointed by the Southern Glendale Improvement club, which had been appointed to interview the members of the city school board relative to the taking out of the eucalyptus trees on the Cerritos avenue school grounds, had interviewed the board and had been asked by them to find out the attitude of members of the organization about taking out certain umbrella and evergreen trees on the grounds, instead of the eucalyptus. The removal of these trees would give plenty of room to the soccer field and baseball field, as well as providing a track, without disturbing the eucalyptus trees with exception perhaps of one of the latter variety. The members of the organization were in favor of this action rather than the removal of a number of the eucalyptus trees.

Members of the Southern Glendale Improvement club were requested to attend the mass meeting regarding a high school site, next Tuesday at the high school at 8 p. m., and announcement was made that there would be no regular meeting of the club next Thursday.

American Legion Urges Delay In Railroad Strike

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21.—Commanders of American Legion posts of this city wired W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, a request that the threatened railroad strike be postponed one week in deference to the American legion nationwide convention.

The request for a postponement of a strike pointed out that the legion convention will open in this city on October 31, the day following the day set for the calling of the strike and that a rail tieup will seriously interfere with the plans of thousands of former service men who desire to attend the convention.

"Cannot Be Postponed"

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—"The strike cannot be put off," said W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, when shown an International News Service dispatch from Kansas City, stating the officers of the American legion had requested a postponement of one week.

"I have no authority to act, and so far as I know no other union executive has such authority. Nothing but a miracle can avert the strike October 30."

Henry W. Yarick Made Member of High School Board

HENRY W. YARICK

Newly appointed member of Glendale Union high school board of trustees.

Henry W. Yarick of 347 West Wilson avenue was named a member of the Glendale Union high school board late yesterday by Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools. He fills the vacancy caused by the death of Claud O. Pulliam.

The new board member is acquainted with school affairs through the medium of the P.-T. A. in which work Mrs. Yarick has been active, and also through his daughter, who is a member of the graduating class. A son, Wayne Yarick, will enter high school next year, thus keeping the official personally interested in what is being done for the young people.

Mr. Yarick has been a resident of Glendale for fourteen years, during which time he has been employed in Los Angeles by the E. T. Earl interests. Here he has been affiliated with church and lodge work and was a nominee for city council on the municipal league ticket at the recent election.

NEWTON ELECTRIC COMPANY GETS BRAND STORE

Old Established Concern to Occupy Fine Quarters In Citizens Building

The J. A. Newton Electric company of 629 East Broadway is making plans to move about the first of December into the south storeroom of the Citizens building at 154 South Brand boulevard which is now under course of construction by contractors May & Hellman, 205 East Broadway.way.

The new home will give the electrical concern much better opportunity for displaying its extensive line of utilities. Incidentally, the move on the part of the company now is an indication of its remarkable growth since it was established in its present quarters here in June, 1910, when but one small room was used and two employes were on the payroll. Today the company is using the adjoining rooms and has seventeen men employed.

In speaking of the move, Mr. Newton, who is an enthusiastic booster for Glendale, said: "Our quarters will give us 2750 square feet of floor space fronting on Brand boulevard and 1600 square feet of space on the mezzanine.

"On the mezzanine will be the office in front and the fixture manufacturing department. Under the balcony of the mezzanine will be four large fixture display rooms.

"The main floor will consist of display of all modern household labor-saving necessities. Our aim in the electrical business has always been to maintain 'Glendale's foremost electrical shop,' and in keeping abreast with the progress of the city, we felt the necessity of having the most up-to-date building in town for our new home.

"Owing to the better class of residents having built in Glendale and the demand for a more elaborate lighting equipment, a large part of the displays will be devoted to fixture designs for which many people in the past thought it necessary to go to Los Angeles to order.

"In addition to the lighting fixtures and the household appliance business we have installed the largest equipment for wiring to be found in the city. We have done the Glendale Theatre job of wiring, which is probably the most elaborate job in the city, and now are doing the wiring for the Citizens building and have the contract for the new Christian church.

"Moving our store involves an unusual amount of labor on the part of the company as it will be necessary to do so much wiring for our display departments. Then, too, in packing our goods for moving unusual care must be taken."

farming with her husband and peddling milk to painting, teaching French and lecturing.

The Baroness and her husband belong to the same family, but for 270 years no intermarriage has taken place between their two branches. Their ancestor came to the Baltic provinces with his brother, Bishop Albert, who, in 1200, founded Riga, and since that time their family has always held prominent positions under the Bishops of Riga, the Dukes of Courland, Kings of Poland and under the Czars of Russia. The great-grandfather of the Baron was Grand Marshal of whole Lithuania, and during the last fifteen years Baron Edmund de Ropp was the head of the Catholic church in Russia.

At the beginning of the Great War the oldest Chevalier of the Chapter of Saint George was a Baron de Ropp, who had been Governor General of Odessa and was still a member of the Council of the Empire, while the brother of Baron de Ropp was at first at the head of the military engineering department and later on Chief of the Commission for the transportation of troops in Siberia.

Serve in Russian Army

Eighteen members of the family of de Ropp served in the Russian army during 1914-15, among them the eldest son of the Baroness, who, because of his reckless daring, won the St. George medal and the four St. George soldier crosses and was then promoted to the rank of officer for his exceptional bravery.

Both Baron and Baroness de Ropp are very enthusiastic in telling how wonderfully kind the Americans, even the so-called very reserved New England people, have been to them from the very first day they landed in New York until the present.

They have decided, however, that they like beautiful California best, which Baroness de Ropp described as the land of flowers and sunshine and the people with the kind smile.

Smoot Sales Tax Project Growing In Favor of Senators

By J. BART CAMPBELL
Written for International News Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Exception of all agricultural products as an amendment to his manufacturers' sales tax substitute for the pending tax bill is proposed by Senator Reed Smoot, republican of Utah.

Senators Johnson, republican, of California; Gooding, republican, of Idaho, and Kendrick, democrat, of Wyoming, are the latest to join the growing group in the senate which has promised to vote for the Smoot sales tax.

This group includes the so-called "manufacturers' bloc" of eastern senators, embracing nearly all of those from New England states and Senators Calder and Wadsworth of New York and Edge of New Jersey.

Several members of the "agricultural bloc" of western and southern senators have already endorsed the Smoot plan, and the exemption of agricultural products, including hay and corn used for fodder, is expected to cause others to support it.

S. P. Officials Gather for Strike Discussion

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Important officials of the Southern Railroad company are gathering here for a conference on the railroad strike situation.

William Sproule, president, returned from an inspection trip through Oregon, and J. H. Dyer, general manager in charge of operation, returned from Chicago, where he attended a meeting of the railroad executives.

President Sproule, in a statement, declared that the strike order of the railroad workers "is against the order of the Railroad Labor board, rendered June 1, 1921, after a full hearing of both sides, declaring that there should be a 12½ per cent reduction of wages." He denied that refusal of the roads to reduce rates was involved.

H. K. Anderson requested confirmation by the railroad commission today of the sale by him to Joseph K. Hawkins of an auto truck milk route operated between dairy ranches in the vicinity of Pomona and Chino and Los Angeles.

Mission Store Will Open for Business on Next Saturday

The Mission Store, featuring fine stationery, fancy goods and toys, will be open for business at 107 West Broadway Saturday under the proprietorship of H. E. Baines, formerly of Montreal, Canada. Mr. Baines has had considerable experience in operating a store carrying this line of goods. He finally decided to retire from business and come to California to live. Arriving here the third of the month he says the advantages of living in Glendale and engaging in business here were too much to be resisted, so he decided to make his home here.

He returned to Montreal and had 1½ tons of his stock of goods shipped out here and the shipment has now arrived. At present Mr. Baines is living in Los Angeles, but intends to move here as soon as he can get located.

The Baines family is skilled in music, Mr. Baines being an accomplished celloist, Mrs. Baines having a degree for piano work in the Dominion College of Music, and the daughter, Ruth, being a violinist.

Mr. Baines in speaking of Glendale, said enthusiastically:

"We came here to retire, couldn't find a house to rent, and decided to open a store. At present we are living in Los Angeles, but intend to move out here as soon as we can find the kind of property we want.

"Our store will carry fine stationery, fancy goods and toys, and we shall try to have on hand at all times gifts for all occasions. I have had several years' experience in this line of work in Montreal and I think the public will find our goods and our service highly satisfactory.

Lower Prices on Coal Predicted by Miners

CHICAGO, Illi., Oct. 21.—Pre-war prices for coal to the consumer were confidently predicted by mining officials at the opening of the American Mining Congress here.

"The only bar to lower prices," said E. C. Porter, manager of the convention, is the high railroad tariff and the waste and high cost due to lack of uniform operation among the operators."

You can't improve the quality of a Ben Davis apple by giving it a "good talking to," and it's quite as useless to try to improve the intelligence of a lot of people by giving them advice.

Taking In Washing Doesn't Make Laundry

MONTROSE, Colo., Oct. 21.—Does the fact that a woman take in washing make her residence a public laundry? And is the exemption from search by officers allowed a private house, when the officers have no warrant, denied her?

A jury in the justice court declared that a home was a home, whether the owner takes in washing or not.

Mrs. Minnie C. Davis was arrested and charged with having liquor in her possession. Her home had been searched by officers without a warrant.

The state tried to prove in court that Mrs. Davis' house was a public laundry, and that no search warrant was necessary.

Mrs. Davis was acquitted.

Card Party Proposed by Columbus P.-T. A.

The regular meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher Association was held yesterday afternoon at the school, Mrs. C. H. Thompson presiding. This was preceded by a short meeting of the executive board. The resignation of Mrs. G. O. Piercey as vice president of the association was accepted with regrets.

The regular meeting was opened with the salute to the flag, led by Miss Lorraine Mitchell, and a verse of America. At that time the awarding of the prize to the room which had succeeded in having the largest number of mothers present at the association meetings during the past year was done. The prize for last year was given to the room in charge of Miss Ball, and consisted of a phonograph record.

Final arrangements for the card party, which is to be given by the association at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, 347 North Orange street, the afternoon of Monday, October 31, were discussed. It was decided that after the card party refreshments of cake and tea would be served.

Mrs. C. H. Pendleton, chairman of the program committee, then took charge of the round table for the discussion of the question of serving hot lunches at the Columbus avenue school. It was found that over 200 children bring their lunches to that school. The mothers present were all in sympathy with the movement to have hot lunches served. Miss Hanson of the domestic science department of the high school also spoke of the necessity of serving hot lunches at noon. It was decided at yesterday's meeting that they would sell chocolates, pure candies and ice cream at the school also if it was found that they could be handled properly. Mrs. Pedford, Mrs. C. H. Pendleton and Mrs. J. Torrey were appointed a committee to investigate and report the matter of fitting up the basement with tables, chairs and other necessary equipment.

The program at the next regular meeting of the Columbus-Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will include a talk on P.-T. A. work by Mrs. A. A. Barton. There will also be a question box.

Father and Son Fight Over Burial of Body

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Charged with holding his mother's body and threatening to bury it here contrary to her wishes said to have been expressed before her death, H. M. Dalton was made defendant in a suit filed in the Superior court here by his father, H. H. Dalton, aged 84, who asked that the court order the son to deliver the body of the decedent, Margaret Ann Dalton, to her husband.

The dispute between father and son began before Mrs. Dalton's death, and two weeks ago the men were in court, each seeking the right to care for Mrs. Dalton. At that time the attorneys representing the contestants were named as guardians of Mrs. Dalton.

Presiding Judge Shenk issued a temporary restraining order to prevent the funeral at Pasadena. The elder Dalton asserted his wife had desired to be buried at St. Louis, Mo., her former home.

Must Display Lights on Bicycles, Ordered

Lights must be displayed in the city of Glendale after dark hereafter, according to instructions issued this morning by Allen O. Martin, chief of police, who stated that state law regarding the subject would be strictly enforced. The state ordinance requires that bicycles should be equipped with a front light visible "under ordinary atmospheric conditions" at least 300 feet and a reflex mirror or lamp in the rear displaying a red light for a distaance of at least 200 feet.

The Koreans are taller than either the Chinese or Japanese. They are robust and vivacious, indefatigable workers and are in great demand in Japan as mechanics. There are different races in the country, and there is a great diversity of features. Some faces are entirely void of hair; others have rich, silky beards and whiskers, while those of others present nothing but a coarse, tangled mass.

'Buster Brown' and Mr. and Mrs. Brown New Arrivals Here

Burton Brown, Mrs. Barbara Brown and Buster Brown, 122 North Brand boulevard, are new arrivals in Glendale from St. Louis. They are being entertained by W. C. Winkler, who is opening a shoe store at that address tomorrow, Saturday.

The premises, which were formerly occupied by S. Berman, the tailor, have been remodeled and redecorated. Mr. Winkler has been spending the last few days in moving the Brown family into comfortable quarters where Glendale people may get acquainted with them to good advantage. The store front has been remodeled and deep display windows installed.

Buster Brown shoes, which are for boys, Barbara Brown shoes for women, and Burton Brown shoes for men, will vie for first place in these two windows.

Mr. Winkler, proprietor of the store, has been connected with the shoe department of the Broadway Department Store since his arrival in California about sixteen months ago. Before that time he operated a store of his own in Norborne, Mo., which is just east of Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Winkler are now residing at 311 North Jackson street with Mrs. Winkler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. White.

Strange Elephants In Glendale! They Have Unique Shapes

White elephants and pink elephants!

A traveling troup of elephants are spending a few days in Glendale, at 104 East Broadway in the window of the First Savings bank.

Mr. Glendale blinked as he paused to look at them on his way home from the Pernishious Order of Owls. He had cause to blink. Beside an elephant which had four tusks was another that had lost its hind legs, developed a tail like an otter and become a fish.

"No self-respecting elephant that I ever owned would forget himself and become a fish," muttered Mr. Glendale.

And then he looked at the placard. "The Evolution of the Elephant."

The wooden figures on display were carved out of pine with a pocket knife by Dr. F. C. Clark, president of the Southern California Academy of Science. They are true natural and paleontological types and illustrate the progress of the pachyderm family from the Eocene period, many thousands of years ago, to the present time.

The first elephant to come to Glendale is depicted. It was made from descriptions supplied by fossils found in this country and is known as the American mastodon. Many other varieties of mastodons are also illustrated.

EIGHT STORE ROOMS AND APARTMENTS TO BE BUILT

Northwest Corner of Orange and Colorado Is Purchased by H. H. Huntington

Through a deal just made by the Kelly & Van Arsdol realty company, 106 West Colorado street, eight store buildings will soon be added to the business section of Glendale. H. H. Huntington, head of the Huntington Rubber company of Los Angeles, has purchased the northwest corner at the intersection of Orange and Colorado streets and intends to begin at once improving the property with eight stores on the Colorado street frontage. The second story of these store buildings will be modern apartments.

The sale was made by A. Houston Jones, who has recently associated himself as a salesman with the Kelly & Van Arsdol realty firm. This was Mr. Jones' first sale of real estate, but the company reports that he was so deeply impressed with the present and future prospects in Glendale that he was able to convince the purchaser in this instance before the latter had seen the property.

Compliments Glendale

Mr. Huntington visited Glendale yesterday afternoon after the deal was closed and looked over the property he had bought. He was very pleased with his purchase and said:

"I wish to compliment the people of Glendale for their far-sighted policy of building attractive and modern business blocks of pleasing architectural design instead of those of cheap and ugly construction. Glendale pleases me very well, and I shall spend more of my time here from now on."

Mr. Huntington recently purchased property from S. P. Stanford at 245 South Orange street.

Webb Has 'All Star' Lines of Merchandise

H. S. Webb & Co. have received a big shipment of the well known Manhattan shirts this week-end, made of the most seasonable materials. Stetson and Mallory hats, Interwoven hose, Vassar and Cooper underwear and Hart Schaffner & Marx clothing are among the other popular lines handled in the men's department of the Webb store, which is conveniently located on Brand boulevard near Broadway.

"No other store in Southern California, including Los Angeles," says Mr. Webb, "can boast of such an 'all-star' line-up of nationally known goods."

Nerves Are Discussed at Club's Gathering

Nervous people, who get all excited and "go to pieces," have a reason!

At last night's session of the Glendale Science club the relationship between nerves and nitro-glycerine was humorously pointed out in the general discussion upon lecithin and nerve tissues.

The meeting, which was the first since last spring, was held at the home of the president of the club, Marvin Creager, 657 Milford street. This will also be the scene of the next session, November 3.

The object of the organization is the discussion of chemical and physiological subjects of interest. The next topic for consideration will be coal tar and animal dyes.

LOCAL SQUAD LOSES GAME TO TIGERS OF S. PASADENA

Glendale High School Team Is Outplayed; Beaten by Score of 21 to 0

Glendale high school's aspirations for another championship football season took a sudden decline yesterday afternoon when Coach Hayhurst's band of cripples and substitutes were outplayed by the South Pasadena Tigers to the tune of 21 to 0. Although their opponents had them on the defensive at practically every stage of the game the Glendale battlers put up a creditable brand of football, and it was generally conceded by those who witnessed the tilt that the Red and Blacks would have almost reversed the lopsided score had their regular all-star lineup been intact.

The opening whistle found the following high class athletes absent from Glendale's side of the field—Fraley and Eiffler, linemen and two of the heaviest men on the team; Ray Goss, fleet-footed end, and "Ronnie" West, husky halfback.

Forced Out By Hurts

During the progress of play Chet Green and Bob McCourt, who are about as good a pair of backs as Glendale has ever had, were forced out of the game on account of injuries. In Green, who suffered a broken rib and several stretched tendons in the second quarter, the locals lose one of their most valuable performers. Not only is he a good man to carry the ball, but so far he has shown his ability as a well qualified field general and strategist. It is hoped by the local pigskin followers that the game little quarterback will reappear in the lineup soon.

But to get back to the game. South Pasadena started right out in the first quarter, scoring a touchdown within a few minutes of play. The oval was carried over the Glendale goal line on straight football, the trick being turned by successive line plunges and off-tackle bucks by Cleveland, McErney, Doerr and Buck. The last named Tiger back, who was the outstanding star of the Black and Orange offense throughout the afternoon, bucked over for the initial score.

Tears Through Line

The second touchdown came in the second quarter when "Rabbit" Cleveland, the wiry little South Pasadena signal caller, tore through the weakened Glendale line for a five-yard run. It was in this quarter that Green received his broken rib after being tackled by a South Pasadena linesman.

Although performing on the losing squad, Captain Dutcher of the locals, was easily the shinning light of the contest. Being the only experienced player on the line he more than did his duty by breaking up practically every play on his side of the forward wall, and also by playing a bangup game on the offense. Besides running almost perfect interference for his teammates he repeatedly outran the ends in "covering" punts, succeeding in stopping numerous Tiger receivers in their tracks. If "Dutch" continues to perform as he did in yesterday's game he will be sought by numerous college coaches following his graduation from the local institution next June.

Barred From Game

Following the complaints from players and spectators that things were not going as they should Urmston, South Pasadena's husky left tackle, was barred from the game for alleged "dirty playing." Several other Tiger players were warned against rough playing before the game ended.

The third and last touchdown came in the first few minutes of the fourth quarter when the South Pasadenans, by the aid of a series of perfectly heaved passes by Buck, pushed over the goal line.

Here's Prize Boner

With but three or four minutes to play in the last quarter Coach Hayhurst's boys pulled the prize boner of the day. Instead of attempting forward passes or long end runs the backs tried to penetrate the Tiger line, which method could not possibly have resulted in a touchdown with the goal line sixty yards away. The game ended with the ball in the possession of South Pasadena on Glendale's forty-yard line. The lineups:

Glendale substitutes—Clous for Stockbridge, Richardson for Gibson, Begg for McCourt, McCourt for Begg, Begg for Ryan, West for Terzo, Terzo for Green.

Victory for Glendale
Confidence in Realty
Merchants' Association
The 'Home Town Paper'

By Gil A. Cowan

COMPLETE victory for Glendale in obtaining a postmaster and independent service comes after years of earnest work on the part of the citizens whose cause was championed through the columns of The Glendale Evening News.

The dispatches of the day state that D. Ripley Jackson has been named acting postmaster here by Postmaster General Will H. Hays on recommendation of Congressman Walter Lineberger. The fourth class office is to be created on December 31 and on January 1, over night as it were, it will be raised to its rightful place to be determined by the amount of postal receipts.

As stated in The Glendale Evening News, the transition will be made with practically no confusion and with a m[illegible] of Captain Jackson's competency in charge there seems little doubt but what Glendale will get the service to which it is entitled.

Illustrative of the confidence displayed in Glendale by investors is the news story today about H. H. Huntington, of the Huntington Rubber company, Los Angeles, who bought a business site at the northwest corner of Orange street and Colorado boulevard here without seeing it and ordered an eight store, two-story building erected thereon.

Yesterday Mr. Huntington came to Glendale to look over his business transactions and was immensely pleased with the whole affair, which was handled through one of the many able real estate agencies. Indeed, if there is any group of people who deserve credit for spending money to bring people to Glendale, it is the realtors.

With more than 200 men and women actively engaged in the profession here, real estate appears on the face of things to be among the leading occupations. And, rightfully, dealing in land should be.

While boasting a bit about Glendale, let us pause to remark that a Merchants' Association soon will be a reality. That is another forward step and in keeping with the progress of the town.

As reported in the news columns sufficient financial backing seems assured already and the organization should be under way before the first of the year.

After that it means credit business will be done on a 30-day basis. At the present moment many people are enjoying 60 and 90 days and even more. They pay when good and ready and not until.

Such extended accommodation has had a deleterious effect on business and now the merchants see the dawn of stability. The next big question after financing is to obtain a competent secretary for such an association.

The success of the project lies within the man.

In the passing it is well to inform the public that the little Glendale girl who ran away from the San Fernando academy has returned to her home here safe and sound.

The statement is given out that she did not wish to attend school further and went to the home of friends. What sort of friends were they who harbored this girl while the foster parents, the police and newspapers were doing all in their power to locate her?

While the girl may be chastised or disciplined for her part in the affair, there is no law which can punish the people who were really responsible for the incident. Public opinion, however, will hold that they are either ignorant or lacking in respect for the moral rights of others.

In today's columns of The Glendale Evening News you will find this city's merchants truly represented. Practically all of the advertisements are from local firms. The Glendale Evening News does not need to go out of the community, other than for strictly foreign accounts, to obtain the support that the "home town paper" merits. The confidence of the community is to be found in such a publication.

Presbyterians Greet New Church Members

The forty-four new members who were received into the Glendale Presbyterian church last Sunday were welcomed at the church parlors last night at a reception given by the S-Z division of the membership, under the direction of G. F. Snyder, chairman.

The program for the evening included piano solos by Miss Isabel Spear, readings by Miss Anita Fletcher and also by Miss Alice McCluggage of Hollywood. An address of welcome on behalf of the members was given by Mrs. T. Weien. W. A. Horne responded for the new members. After a roll call of states, interspersed with old-time melodies and songs, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Federal Judge Held on Violation Traffic Law

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 21.—Judge Page Morris, of Federal district court at Duluth, Minn., was arrested here on a charge of violating two sections of the state motor vehicle law. A motorcycle officer gave chase and made the arrest after the jurist was alleged to have run down and injured Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes of this city.

Judge Morris, who is visiting here, was released on $1,000 bail, pending a hearing in police court today.

BUSY SATURDAY ON EASTERN FIELDS FOR FOOTBALL

Prjnceton and Harvard Will Have Active Afternoon Is Belief; Other Battles

By JACK VEIOCK
Written for International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—With Chicago's Maroons coming east full of fight and Penn state tuned up to a high pitch it begins to look more and more like a busy Saturday for Princeton and Harvard.

Having taken a trouncing from the Navy last Saturday the Tigers are none too well prepared to withstand the onslaught of Chicago. It is still uncertain, too, that Don Tourie, Nassau's big star, will be able to stay in the lineup long if he gets in at all.

Princeton must look ahead toward the Yale and Harvard games. She must conserve her strength, even at the expense of a beating by Chicago and the problem is no laughing matter in Tigertown.

The Maroons will come east with a varsity lineup intact. They will be fresher, for they loafed last week.

So there is reason for at least a thin veil of gloom at Princeton.

Uncertain Strength

In Penn State, Harvard's varsity will meet a foe of uncertain strength in a game that will be full of Hugo Bezdek's tricks, a team, withal that seems to have more line power than Harvard has. And Harvard's line has generally been her forte in tight games.

The back fields of Penn State and Harvard, on paper, seem pretty evenly matched. Where Harvard may show to advantage is the kicking department, as she did last fall against Yale, but her linesmen will have to do their bit.

Picking a winner of either the Princeton-Chicago or Penn State-Harvard games would be foolhardy. Sensational developments may turn up in both games, however. Perhaps the wholly unexpected.

The game between Pittsburgh and Syracuse at Forbes field will be watched with unusual interest.

In addition to these games and the Army-Yale struggle at New Haven, no games of ultra-import stand out on the eastern schedule.

Life History of Inventor Is Offered; Varied Volumes on Library Shelves

An especially appealing and attractive collection of books is included in those which have been released during the past week at the public library building on Harvard street, which is in charge of Mrs. J. C. Danford, librarian. Books of science and photography, biography, history and fiction are among the volumes, which includes the following list:

"Thomas Alva Edison," sixty years of an inventor's life, by Francis Arthur Jones. This book will come as a revelation, at once interesting and valuable, being the result of close acquaintance with the inventor and his associates.

"Outwitting Our Nerves," by Josephine A. Jackson and Helen M. Salisbury. In place of vain platitudes about worry and will-power, one is let in on the real reasons for worry and the blues.

Photography as Fine Art

"The Fine Art of Photography," by Paul L. Anderson. This volume deals with photography as a fine art. It includes position, values, suggestion and mystery, landscape work, winter work, landscape with figures, illustration, architectural work, marine work, motion pictures and portraiture, concluding with the philosophy of the hand camera and remarks on technic.

"The Obstacle Race," by Ethel M. Dell. The story of a woman who, in an effort to conquer herself, escapes from the maddening whirl of a purposeless, selfish, almost senseless society circle, only to find that the real race of life is just beginning for her.

How to Know Poe

"Poe," How to Know Him, by C. Alphonso Smith. The author has divided his material into six large sections, as follows: I. The world author, considers Poe's place as an international author. II.The Man, outlines Poe's interest in world affairs; defends his personality and life. III. The Critic, presents Poe's criticisms of his contemporaries. IV. The Poet, quotes and analyzes many of Poe's ballads. V. Considers Poe as a writer of short stories. VI. The Frontiersman, discusses Poe's prose and poems. This book is an anthology, biography and commentary.

"Los Angeles from the Mountains to the Sea," by J. S. McGroarty, in three volumes. Both biographical and historical.

"Practical and Artistic Basketry," by Tinsley.

"Under Handicap," a western story, by Jackson Greggory.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL IS ASSURED FOR GLENDALE FOLK

Noted Opera Stars to Appear Here; Attraction Will Be Offered on Wednesday

Glendale Theatre patrons are looking forward with anticipation to the advent of the Sonora Grand Opera stars who will be presented as an added attraction starting next Wednesday in a musical festival of selections from famous grand operas and ballads.

Eduardo Lejarazu, baritone; Speria Castel, contralto; Beatriz Pizzorni, soprano, and Ignacio Del Castillo, conductor, all of whom appeared last season in leading roles with the Sonora Grand Opera company, are the artists who will present this interesting program. The Sonora company, after a two years' tour of the principal cities of the United States and Canada, closed its regular season, and during the process of reorganization for the coming season, the leading stars are appearing in the larger cities as a sort of between seasons tour.

Wonderful Baritone

Music lovers will remember, especially, Eduardo Lejarazu in his portrayal of the title role of "Rigoletto," in which part he has delighted eminent musical people throughout the United States. Previous to touring with the Sonora Grand Opera company, he was a member of the Boston Opera company who acclaimed him not only as one of the world's greatest baritones, but also a wonderful actor.

The repertoire of these artists consists of the most popular and well known selections from grand opera, and also songs that will appeal to the popular taste, and the program will be changed each day. There will be the full feature picture program also, so that the program for this engagement will be unusually fine, and a real treat is promised those fortunate enough to attend.

It was necessary to break the lavatory bowl to release him. After medical attention he was removed to the county jail.

OPINION IN JAPAN IS DIVIDED ON CONFERENCE

Three Trends of Views Shown on Armament Meeting to Be Held in Capital

By DUKE N. PARRY
Written for International News Service

TOKYO, Oct. 21.—There is a division of opinion in Japan today over the outcome of the Washington conference, although official circles are hopeful it will achieve satisfactory results.

Before and since the departure of the Japanese delegates for Washington the expression of opinion has followed three trends:

1—Full praise and a firmly expressed belief that the conference will not only smooth out difficulties in the far east, but will find means of limiting the armaments of the world's leading powers.

2—Open criticism and statements that the meeting can accomplish good.

3—Skepticism and expressions of doubt regarding the general motives and intentions of the United States.

The Japanese delegation at Washington will contend that Pacific problems do not extend to Asia alone but exist "wherever the Pacific flows."

Former Secretary for Georgia Chiefs Accused

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21.—Three indictments, one charging larceny after trust and others charging forgery, were returned here against Claude A. West, former secretary to three Georgia governors. West's irregularities as charged in the indictments are placed at $2,889.76.

West has been at liberty under bond of $7,000 following his arrest on a warrant issued at the request of the present administration.

Earl of Cavan to Confer Cross Upon Unknown Dead

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Earl of Cavan, who is expected to accompany the British delegation to the Washington conference as an expert on military affairs has been selected to confer the Victoria cross upon the grave of America's unknown soldier in Arlington cemetery, the Daily Sketch has announced.

It is understood Premier Lloyd George ruled that the Victoria cross should be conferred as a "political necessity." There has been strong opposition, the opponents including King George. This opposition was based upon the contention that it was legally and traditionally impossible to confer Britain's highest award upon a foreign soldier who had not even fought in the British army. The premier insisted and finally overcame the opposition. Foreign office experts were then called upon to devise means of making the award "legal."

Administration Gets Authority to Settle Foreign Loan Puzzle

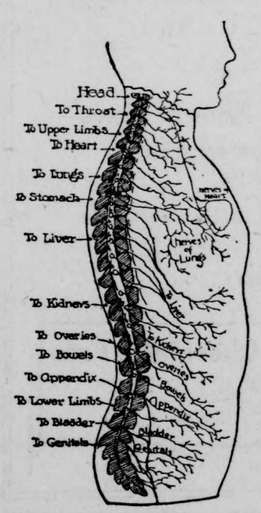
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—When the statesmen of nine nations gather around the table here November 11 to settle the military and naval policies of the future, the administration will be clothed with authority to negotiate the settlement terms under which Europe is to repay the $11,000,000,000 borrowed during the war.

This became virtually assured when Republican leaders of the house announced the bill providing for the funding and refunding of the foreign loans, and their accumulated interest, probably would be passed by the house today. By that time the treaties will be out of the way in the senate and the bill is expected to meet with but little opposition there.

JOHN SURELY NEEDS REST

DENVER—Because John Hennessy, superintendent of the Free Employment bureau here, "snoozed" with his shoeless feet propped on his office desk, he was suspended for "surly and discourteous" conduct.

"Heart Trouble"



is a term which covers a multitude of diagnostic errors. Generally, when you hear of a sudden death, and often, after cases of prolonged illness, it will be said that the victim died of "heart trouble."

Of course, when death comes, the heart stops beating and whatever may be the underlying cause of death, it can be safely said that heart trouble caused death. It did.

But, go further back than the death itself, and generally you will find some primary cause, that, had it been recognized and corrected in time, might have proved only a minor ailment.

The heart is a vital organ and any cause that seriously impairs it or stops its functions is fatal; this is also true of other organs of the body, but the cause of such stoppage is generally mechanical—that is, something goes wrong with the functioning of the organ.

Thousands of cases restored to health by Chiropractors are cited as proof of their claim that their science will do the work.

POWER OF CONGRESS TO FIX RAILWAY RATES ARGUED

First Test Takes Place in the Supreme Court; Total of 45 States Involved

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The first test of the power of congress to fix railroad rates within states was argued before the United States Supreme court today. A total of forty-five states are joined in various suits in which this power is challenged. The specific case argued is that of the state of New York denying the right of the Interstate Commerce commission to raise the passenger rate on the New York Central within New York to 3.6 cents per mile. The constitutionality of the transportation act of 1920 is attacked and will also be attacked in similar suits pending.

The forty-five states attacking the 1920 law have aligned themselves into two groups. The first group, which includes New York, Texas and North Dakota, attacks the right of the Federal government to fix intrastate rates on roads whose rates have been previously fixed by franchise contract and stipulation. The New York Central got its franchise to build its road from Albany to Buffalo on condition that at no time should its passenger rates between the two points exceed two cents a mile.

On General Grounds

The second group is headed by Wisconsin, backed by forty-one other states. They attack the 1920 law on the general grounds that the Interstate Commerce commission has no right to regulate intrastate rates under any conditions. This case is now in the Supreme court and is to be heard soon.

The decision of the Supreme court will probably control the action of congress on a bill now pending before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee restoring full intrastate jurisdiction to state boards. The bill was introduced by Representative Sweet of Iowa.

Frenchmen Prefer Widows to Young Girls for Wives

PARIS—The woman with an apartment, preferably a furnished one, is most in demand as a fiancee, says the Excelsior in its account of an interview with the manageress of a Paris matrimonial agency characterized as one of the better sort. The war widow, if young and agreeable, remarries much more easily than a young girl making her first venture on matrimonial seas.

A physician between the ages of 30 and 40, well educated and of good physique, was called the first prize among men. Parents demanded engineers, architects, professors or lawyers for their daughters' husbands, while the girls themselves wished above all for an artist but the cupid broker reported this homo genus as extremely rare.

The fortunes offered with the French women varied from 50,000 to 250,000 francs. The directoress proudly stated that she had arranged a marriage between an engineer and a country girl where the bride brought 400,000 francs to her husband.

Daughters of rich peasants who have retired and wished to live in town formed the largest clientele of the bureau, in which the women applicants outnumbered the men two or three to one.

SEVEN STATES GET BIG SHAKEUP IN 'DRY' LEADERS

Law Being Evaded and Action Is Declared Necessary by Prohibition Chief

By W. H. ATKINS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—A new deal on prohibition enforcement has been ordered in seven states by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, it was learned today. There is to be an immediate shakeup and reorganization of enforcement in Illinois, Ohio, Maryland, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Indiana and Kentucky.

The law is being evaded in those states, many government enforcement agents are either careless or negligent and the lid will have to be tightened with firmer clamps, the Washington authorities have decided. A number of present high state prohibition officials will have to make way for others who are considered more efficient, it is said.

Political Jobs Go

In doing this, the government authorities will ruffle the political prestige of some senators and congressmen. Many of those slated to lose their jobs or to be shifted are political appointees. However, it is intended to give consideration to other recommendations by party leaders in making the replacements.

This is in line with a policy approved some time ago by Revenue Commissioner Blair, according to state and national party leaders, the right to make recommendations.

The shakeup is designed principally to stop leaks arising from laxity in issuing permits to withdraw liquor from bonded warehouses.

NO KNICKERS FOR THEM

EASTON, Pa.—While other students are indulging in the fad of wearing knickerbockers, Lafayette college freshmen must continue to wear the full-length trousers. In the list of freshmen regulations issued by the sophomore class, it is clearly stated freshmen must not wear knickers.

The first year men also must take out the cuff in their trousers, wear green cravats except on Sunday, sport a green skull cap and keep their hands out of their pockets. Other regulations are: Freshmen must not walk on the grass nor smoke cigarets on the campus and keep their goloshes buckled at all times.

HUGE SUM NOW DUE U. S. AS FOREIGN LOAN INTEREST

Senator McKellar In Favor of Collecting It to Reduce Taxation

By U. S. Press Association.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The debts of the allied nations to the United States, amounting now to some $11,000,000,000, will be the subject of debate in the senate during the consideration of the tax revision bill. Senator McKellar of Tennessee, Democrat, has offered an amendment to the bill which would instruct the secretary of the treasury to collect the interest due on these debts, amounting to about $500,000,000 a year, and in his way make it possible to reduce taxation in this country.

Secretary Mellon of the treasury department appeared recently before the Ways and Means committee of the House, urging legislation at this time for funding and refunding the foreign loans to the alies.

To Curb Coal Strife

Senator Kenyon of Iowa has introduced two bills to curb profiteering in coal and to put an end to the industrial strife which has existed in the coal fields. The Iowa senator is chairman of the committee on Education and Labor and has recently visited the West Virginia coal fields, where the miners and operators have been in conflict. It is expected he will ask his committee to give early consideration to these measures.

Talks Industrial Efficiency

Assistant Secretary of Commerce, F. M. Feiker, speaking before the American Electric Railway association, observed that the only thing which kept the electric railway industry going, during some of the past years "has been the very necessity of your service in order that the rest of the community could progress and function industrially and socially." Mr. Feiker said of the electric railway situation:

"The condition of your industry is indeed critical in many respects. The whole condition has arisen, at least in part, it seems to me, from a lack of appreciation both on the part of the general public and your own part, of the basic interdependence of your industry and the rest of the industries of the country and the different communities. Some of the data which bear upon this are astonishing and conclusive of the point.

Six Billions Invested

"You represent a fixed investment said to beout $6,000,000,000, upon which a great deal of industrial and other business credit is based. You employ some 300,000 men in normal times. You burn annually over 16,000,000 tons of coal. You have a gross income, estimated for 1920, of some $955,000,000 of which approximately 6 per cent, or nearly $60,000,000 is repaid to the communities in taxes, not to mention the paving maintenance which most of you carry. You pay out over $300,000,000 in wages, which is used principally for purchasing commodities and the products of other industries.

"You buy directly supply material which costs another $300,000,000. You buy in normal times another $200,000,000 worth for extensions, replacements, etc. You transport, each year, from 12,000,000,000 to 15,000,000,000 passengers — twelve times as many as the steam railroads. The very marshalling of this data indicates the close relation your industry has to other industries, and its importance to the nation."

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimuate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

Russian Prince Sells Rembrandts to Philadelphian

LONDON—Joseph Widener of Philadelphia today announced that he had purchased two Rembrandts for $750,000, formerly housed in the Yousseupoff Gallery at Petrograd. Their owner, Prince Yousseupoff, had vainly attempted to sell the paintings in London for $1,300,000. He recently went to Philadelphia, where he disposed of them to Widener.

The paintings are known as "A Gentleman with High Hat and Gloves in Right Hand" and "Lady with Ostrich Fan in Right Hand."

The prince, who won fame by slaying the Black Monk Rasputin, saved most of his valuable canvasses at the time of the revolution.

These Five Classes to Get All Expenses Paid

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The war department has announced five classes of present and former service men and public officials who will have places of honor at the Armistice day ceremonies of tribute to the unknown American soldier who is to be buried at Arlington cemetery.

Members of these five classes are to come at government expense and be guests of the government in Washington:

All persons who received the congressional medal of honor for services performed during the world war.

One representative from every 10,000 men of the 4,764,071 who served in the national forces during the war.

One officer and one enlisted man from each branch of service of the army, navy, marine and coast guard forces.

Honorary pallbearers, to be composed of rear admirals and major generals.

Body bearers to consist of warrant and non-commissioned officers.

A sixth class, who are invited to come at their own expense will be those who received the congressional medal of honor for services other than those performed during the world war.

Lack of funds has made it necessary for the war department to reduce the number of guests who are to attend at the government's expense.

Stillman Divorce Case May Reach Settlement

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Possibility that the famous Stillman divorce case may be settled out of court on Fifi Potter Stillman's own terms was seen today following announcement that further hearings in Stillman's suit for divorce will be postponed, until late in December or January.

It was rumored the involving of the Rockefeller families in the controversy over the legitimacy of baby Guy Stillman had resulted in pressure being exerted upon James A. Stillman to reach a settlement with his wife. Members of the Rockefeller families, as executors and inheritors under the will of the late James Stillman, were summoned to testify with regard to baby Guy's right to a share in the fortune left by the elder Stillman.

HI-Y IS FILLED WITH INSPIRING IDEAS AND FOOD

G. R. Andrews Tells of Work Done by Volunteers Among Prisoners

Over half a hundred members of the Hi-Y gathered at the Christian church bungalow last night to enjoy a sumptuous banquet and to hear several interesting and inspiring talks by the members and leaders of the organization and by prominent speakers among whom were G. R. Andrews of the Bible Institute.

Mr. Andrews' talk on the work of the Volunteer League of America was interesting and instructive, in that he spoke with the authority of one who has made a close study of prison methods in several states, and that he recalled many instances wherein the work of the league had succeeded in reforming some of the most hardened criminals.

In part, Mr. Andrews said: "There are 78,000 men and women behind prison bars in the United States today. Had some one told any of these prisoners early in life, at the average age of this gathering here tonight, that they would be looking through prison bars some day, they would not have believed it.

History of Volunteers

"The work of the Volunteers of America started 26 years ago when Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth received a letter in San Francisco, asking her to pay a visit to a prison and talk to one of the prisoners there. She did so. At that time Mrs. Booth was engaged in Salvation Army work, but decided to sever her connection with that organization and take up the work of doing good for prisoners,—the result was that the Volunteer League of America was formed.

"Houses of correction were opened up and the gospel carried to the prisoners in the United States. Prison homes were established where the men are allowed to remain until they get a chance to work and make good. Over 30,000 have been cared for in these prison homes and out of this 30,000, 90 per cent have made good, and only 5 per cent have been sent back to prison.

Help from Within

"No preacher in the world can reform these men, the help must come from within. These men must be given a chance to stand alone, to fight their own battles, and they realize that only with Divine help can they succeed. They must work and hustle for themselves, therefore must be given a chance to make good, for no man ever drifted lazily into the Kingdom of Heaven.

"The prisons of an early day tortured the prisoner. Many prisons today still have methods of punishment. Society has a right to punish the transgressor, but it does NOT have a right to brand him, as was done formerly by the lock step, the close hair-cut, etc.

"The taxpayers little realize how much it costs in the state of California to maintain its prisons, and the cost is not alone confined to the maintenance of these institutions, for there is often the family of either the criminal, or his victim, that must be looked after. In California, for the 2,850 prisoners, it costs the taxpayers annually over $900,000, or $319 per prisoner.

Prisoners Learn Trades

"What is the remedy? The state of Minnesota has solved it in this manner: A farm machine factory, a dairy, and a twine factory have been put in operation where the prisoners work and learn a trade,—and that state last year realized $368 from the work of each prisoner. In addition to this, each prisoner was given a liberal alowance and a similar allowance was made for his family.

"In California the cost to the taxpayers is not confined to the prisoner alone, for there is often the family of the victim, in case of murder, which must be looked after. In the city of Los Angeles the Volunteer Workers found one case of a mother and children in such pitiable circumstances that one of the children, a short time later, died of starvation."

Mr. Andrews then graphically touched upon the work of the league and gave many instances of the conditions it found and the relief work. He concluded by saying: "And the blessing we get from any of these whom we aid is nearly always this: 'May God bless you, and may you never go hungry.' We cannot imagine wishing that any of our nearest friends might not go hungry, the thought does not occur to us, but it takes those who have suffered the agony of starvation and poverty to wish for their friend not to go hungry."

Girl Leader Speaks

Following the serving of the banquet, at which the Hi-Y cabinet members were guests of honor, Dale Wood, president of the Boys' League, in a clever and easy manner acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Miss Doris Packer, president of the Girls' League, spoke a few words of appreciation, after which H. Phillip Henderson responded for the boys. Paul Edmonds spoke on "What the Hi-Y Stands For," outlining the social, religious, educational, and athletic features of the work. Paul Hutchinson, president of the student body, made a short and inspiring talk on the importance of education and religious work.

Mrs. Ethel H. F. Moyse, vice-principal of the high school, responded with a few remarks, telling the boys how important it was for them to stand for a square deal and exact the same. "We have too much charcoal and pastel work in the schools," said Mrs. Moyse, "what we need is more interior decoration and less exterior decoration. Boys should let it be known they do not approve of this. Be straightforward and expect the same from others."

Arlin McCormack thanked the workers who had made the banquet a success, after which the colored quartet from Monrovia was introduced. So hearty was the applause that the four were made to respond with two encores.

Principal Moyse Speaks

Principal George U. Moyse gave encouraging remarks concerning the work of the Hi-Y and the field there was yet to be covered by its many activities. He concluded by saying that religious work did not exclude or isolate any one from taking a part in any important work of the world. The principal asked that the names of a few of the Hi-Y leaders be handed him so that he could use the boys as assistants in showing visitors around the school or in helping some new student get acquainted with the institution.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Christian church, was called upon and responded by praising the work of the Hi-Y and asked that the organization feel at home at all times for its gatherings in the church bungalow.

"Right now we are a little handicapped," said Rev. Cole, "we have a steam shovel in the front yard and our church is up on stilts, but when you visit us later on, say in about a year, you will find one of the finest churches in southern California."

The Hi-Y orchestra furnished several numbers throughout the evening. The organization plays very commendably and was encored several times. It is composed of Herbert Bruck, violinist; Ralph Van Hoorebeke, pianist; Alvin Brown, banjo, and Billy Tressler, drums.

List of Guests

The following guests were present at the banquet: Principal, George Moyse, Mrs. Ethel H. F. Moyse, vice-principal and dean of girls, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, Rex C. Kelley, district secretary, George R. Andrews, representing Volunteers of America, Doris Packer, president of the girls' league, Lucy Strother, secretary of assemblies, Paul Hutchinson, president student body, George C. 'HEARTSTRINGS' AT T. D. & L. TODAY, TOMORROW

Pantages Headline Act on Meiklejohn and Dunn Road Show Bill

The T. D. & L. theatre tonight and tomorrow is presenting a huge double program of Meiklejohn & Dunn vaudeville, the feature picture, "Such a Little Queen," starring Constance Binney and another eventful chapter of "Miracles of the Jungle," all at usual prices. Attention is directed to the fact that three complete shows are given daily, 3, 7 and 9 p. m.

The Pantages headline act, "Heartstrings," presented by Herbert Bethew & co., is the stellar attraction. It tells the story of a little waif who brings joy and happiness to a married couple following a series of comedy situations.

Second on the bill comes Ted Shawn's newest production, "The Lytell Twins," in a series of beautiful and colorful dance creations. In their dance numbers they are assisted by Harry Losei. This is one of the best acts of its kind in the present vaudeville season. The attraction had its premiere last week at a Los Angeles theatre and is shortly to tour the country.

Others who will amuse and entertain on the bill are the Novelty Trio, composed of Hawaiian instrumentalists and singers. Lee and Sam, two boys who play and sing and add a lot of comedy to the bill.

The management urges everybody to come early and thus avoid standing in line for the second show.

WOMEN THROUGHOUT WORLD WILL NAG ARMS PARLEY

Many Massing to Have Voice In Conference; Picketing Now Being Debated

BY MILDRED MORRIS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — The president's armament conference will hear from the women.

Women in the far east, women in Europe, women throughout the world, will make their demands known. Through world-wide demonstrations they will lift their voices in a mighty clamor for an end of war.

A "Battalion of Death" is now mobilizing to descend on the conference.

Thousands of women, representing every section of the country, will descend on Washington, each with the avowed intention to keep up a deadly barrage of "nagging" until the conference takes action assuring future world peace.

Already more than a dozen national women's organizations are at work on plans to "camp on" the conference and "nag" the distinguished delegates into action.

There is even talk of picketing the conference. Gold Star Mothers and disabled veterans on the picket line —this among the plans under consideration.

Most of the organizations will be satisfied with a program calling for limitation of armaments. A few demand complete disarmament and nothing less.

Watchdog of Conference

The Women's World Disarmament committee, the first in action, calls itself the "watchdog" of the conference.

"This conference must be the people's conference," says Miss Emma Wold, chairman of the committee. "It is fast degenerating into anything but a disarmament conference.

"It is up to the people to see that disarmament comes out of it. We can do it if we really want disarmament. We must express this gripping heartfelt desire in a demand which cannot be pushed aside by questions of the far east, or any other questions."

Huge Demonstration

All the big women's organizations of the country will take part in the nationwide demonstration planned by the National Women's Trade Union league, representing 600,000 women. Most of them are organized women from the trade union ranks. The league will work with the International Congress of Working Women, which meets in Geneva. Plans for an international demonstration call for mass meetings and parades by women throughout the world on Armistice Day. At the mass meetings the women's demands will be drafted into a platform for submission to the president's conference.

The National League of Women Voters is working through the clearing house recently organized here with all organizations active in the cause of disarmament represented. Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Roosevelt leader and former head of the forestry bureau, heads the activities of this clearing house. It will "co-operate" with the administration it announces, and has elaborate plans to get information of the conference out to the public. Different phases of the conference will be interpreted by experts, whose articles will be sent broadcast.

Women on Committees

Though none of the nine countries as yet has designated a woman to sit in the conference, President Harding has announced that two women will have places on the prominent advisory committees.

On the outside looking in, the women intend to make their voices heard in an emphatic manner. Their attack will be "dignified but determined," they announce.

It is no secret that the activities of the women have aroused not a little uneasiness in the White House circles.

"We want no pussyfooting or gumshoe methods," say the women leaders.

Privately the administration leaders express fear that the woman host brass band angles of the conference diplomats deem best to keep secret.

The "Battalion of Death" will be on the job continuously. It will send its forces out to shatter the traditions of diplomacy. Its leaders warn there will be no let-up in the barrage of publicity or verbal ammunition.

Millions of sharp, suspicious women's eyes will be on the conference. Millions of women's voices will speak as one in admonishing world-distinguished statesmen to 'walk the chalkline."

"Nagging," woman's most effective weapon since Eve's day, will be matched against diplomasy.

W. E. Crow Will Take Knox Vacancy, Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Governor Sproule has tendered the appointment as senator from Pennsylvania, to succeed the late Senator Knox, to William E. Crow, Republican state chairman of Pennsylvania, according to information received here by senate leaders. Crow has accepted, it is understood.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO FISH

WAVERLY, Colo.—Mrs. Bernice Gooding has her own ideas about fishing. Seeing a large marsh bittern perched in a nearby tree, she hit it with a rock. The bird promptly disgorged a good-sized fish and flew away.

FREIGHT RATE CUT WOULD SAVE HUGE SUM TO FARMER

Favorable Action Being Asked on Application Filed by Farm Bureau Federation

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—An annual saving to farmers of $250,000,000 to $500,000,000 would result if favorable action is taken upon the application of the American Farm Bureau Federation for an immediate 10 to 20 per cent reduction on freight rates on basic necessities of life, President J. R. Howard declared. The application has been filed before the Interstate Commerce commission.

The filing of the application is the "opening gun" in the Federation's transportation policy, Howard said. His organization represents 1,300,000 farmers.

At the same time, Howard telegraphed invitations to railway executives and to brotherhood chiefs to join him in conference here.

"I will urge immediate withdrawal of the strike order, translation of the July 1 wage cut into freight rate reductions and the holding up of petitions for new cuts in wages," Howard said.

Says Pledge Repudiated

He said the filing of the petition before the Commerce commission was decided upon when the Association of Railway Executives, following its meeting in Chicago last week, announced that no rate reductions would be made until further wage cuts were authorized by the United States Railway Labor board. Howard contended that this announcement was in repudiation of a pledge a committee of rail executives had made last September to farm bureau representatives and other shippers.

The Farm Bureau petition for freight reductions alleges that while the farmers get no more, and even less, for their products than before the war, they pay 70 per cent above the pre-war level in railroad rates. The petition urges hearings be started at once, in view of the emergency.

All class one railroads in the country are named in the petition.

Marrying Minister Dodges His Ouster; Acts Are Defended

WILMINGTON—The court of Cecil county, Maryland, will be called upon Monday to issue a writ of mandamus against R. T. Western, deposed Methodist clergyman of Elkton, because he will not surrender his ordination papers to the Rev. Dr. Watt, of this city, who is superintendent of the Wilmington district of the conference of that title and in which Elkton is a charge.

Accoring to statements made today by E. Kirk Brown, Elkton attorney for Western, who was convicted of conduct unbecoming a minister by splitting fees he received from marriages performed with jitneymen of Elkton, he has advised the former clergyman to refuse to give up his ordination certificate until the Methodist Episcopal church has further passed on his case. Elkton attorneys have been engaged by Doctor Watt, on behalf of the Wilmington conference, and failure of Mr. Western to turn over the papers by Monday will result in legal action.

A new development in the case came today from Attorney Brown, who announced that it was not likely that Mr. Western would file his appeal with the Wilmington conference.

"I do not believe the Wilmington conference has jurisdiction over my client," he said, "and I am going to consult with attorneys who are Methodists and know the church discipline to learn if the appeal cannot be taken elsewhere. I also have advised him to cease marrying persons until the appeal is heard.

"My client did not do anything more than other Methodist clergymen of Elkton have done. The Rev. Dr. Alderson, who is in charge of the Methoidist church at Elkton, has married all the eligible couples who have been taken to him."

Gang of Counterfeiters In Pacific Northwest

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 21.—There is no organized counterfeiting league with bootleggers in the Pacific northwest, according to Captain W. R. Jarrell, chief of the secret service here, commenting on discovery of counterfeit $10 bills in circulation.

"Canadian liquor dealers were paid for booze by American bootleggers in counterfeit money. That's the whole story, and it's a joke on the Canadian whiskey dealers," says Captain Jarrell.

Later some of the counterfeit money trickled over the boundary line into this country, he believes.

American Girl's Skirt Cause of Traffic Jam

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—They wear 'em longer in the land of the Antipodes.

So much longer that an American plan skirt worn by an American girl caused a traffic jam which verged on a riot.

Miss Dorothy B. Summers, just back from Sydney, Australia, is authority for the fashion news from that country and admits that it was her skirt that caused the excitement.

Chicago Opera Sued; N. Y. Assets Tied Up; Production Menaced

NEW YORK—Recalling the days of the barnstorming troupes which usually carried a sheriff or two with them to make certain the payments of debts in the town just left behind, the Chicago Opera association, so far as the New York end of the organization is concerned, is in the hands of a deputy sheriff.

Included in the deputy sheriff's raid following the writ of attachment by Supreme Court Justice Vernon M. Davis, is a list of names including New York's ultra social members, patrons of the Chicago opera, who are certain to be denied operatic entertainment from that organization unless the Chicago company defeats the suit of Ben H. Atwell, former publicity director, who alleges he was dismissed from the company while it yet owed him $6000 salary and which has since failed to be paid.

Without the settlement of the suit, which gives promise of being a fight to the hilt, operatic lovers throughout the entire country and extending as far south as Havana, Cuba, are in doubt as to whether they will be permitted to attend the operatic offerings of the Chicago company this coming season.

Certain it is that the Chicago company can make no move, as far as its New York property and business interests are concerned, until the suit has been settled one way or the other.

Meanwhile, Atwell has subpoenaed not only the heads of various business directors of the Chicago company, but such artists as Rosa Raisa, Bonci, Tito, Schippa and other equally well-known operatic stars.

Costly Baths In Tokio Threaten Era of Unwashed

By DUKE N. PARRY

TOKIO—Public baths in Tokio are too high. It used to cost the citizens of the Japanese capital the sum of 8-10 of a sen (4-10 of a cent) to buy a bath; today the same plunge that was so cheap in the good old days is six sen (three cents). The fact is that baths in the homes in Tokio are still comparative luxuries—luxuries which to the foreigner seem poor kinds of luxuries, as they consist of a wooden tub in which one must fold up like a pair of scissors. So when the Japanese people, who do enjoy the daily or twice weekly plunge as the case may be, are forced through the H. C. L. to forego the pleasure they have always known they feel that they have reason to complain.

"When coal is high," says the correspondent of one Tokio newspaper, "there is not so much profit in running a bath house, but when it is low there is a big profit. No matter how times are the bath house business is always fairly good. People must bathe, and they must pay cash for the privilege. In the city of Tokio there is not a single bath house where the customers each day number less than 500, while in the main districts there are many houses where 1000 people use the baths. This means an income of Y60 a day and the expenses leave a fair profit in almost every case. A very well-known bath house in Tokio recently sold only the business, good will and equipment for Y68,000 ($34,000)."

Paris Publishers In Scramble for Bluebeard Poems

PARIS—Paris publishers are contesting hotly for the honor of publishing the first book of poems written by "Bluebeard" Landru during the two years he has been in prison charged with the murder and incineration of thirteen women.

Landru's trial has at last been set, after more than thirty postponements, for November, before the Versailles Assizes.

Society women are forming queues at the Ministry of Justice for reserved seats wherefrom to witness what is expected will prove to be the most thrilling tale Paris has known since the acquittal of Mme. Caillaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette.

One of Landru's poems is dedicated to his lawyer, the famous Moro Giafferi. One of the stanzas runs:

Here, exiled from my native farm,
Long days and nights of weary study
In the maze of law
Bewildered have left me; your wisdom,
Gathered from the mobile universe,
Teaches me but does not answer
By what destiny the knife suspended
Is o'er me?
What hand guides my judges?
Whose orders have
Unleashed malignant genii on my gray hairs?
What God tore me from my home—mayhap forever—
My much-loved home at Gambais?

Gambais is the villa where Landru is alleged to have had his private crematory.

FAN TAN RULES ON BIG BOATS; HUGE SUMS AT STAKE

Toddle, Too, Lotteries, Races Not In It When Passengers Leave for Far East

BY EDNA LEE BOOKER
Written for International News Service

MID-OCEAN, Oct. 21.—Spinning the little wicked roulette top with its fickle "take all" at Los Angeles tea parties; playing the races in Mexico; buying tickets on the Chinese lottery in Shanghai; breaking the bank at Monte Carlo and "shootin' craps" down in Dixie are fascinating, but—

Fan tan is the game of chance which rules supreme on the big ocean liners sailing from San Francisco to Hong Kong.

Men of all nationalities, of all ranks of life, of many creeds and languages meet on an equal footing around the fan tan tables, for the little lady of fan tan plays no favorites. She scorns, laughs at, smiles upon and favors the rich, the poor the brown or the white, the high or the low according to her whim and fancy.

Tables Are Busy

From early morning until long after midnight the fan tan tables are busy. First-class passengers climb down the narrow stairs from the main deck to the steerage to play the game. Debutantes in smart sport costumes, social leaders from the world's famous watering places, business men, professional gamblers, school teachers on a long-dreamed-of vacation, business girls going out to accept positions with large firms in the far east, young men hoping to make their fortunes in the Orient, the rich idle tourist on a trip around the world, all yield to the lure of fan tan.

Yellow faces, impassive and expressionless; unshaven Russian faces, eager and tense; East Indian faces, alert and earnest; tourist faces, patronizing and watchful, bend over the table.

A Cantonese wearing an American-made straw hat and smoking a long white brass Chinese water pipe sits at the end of the table. He rubs his slim, tapering hand with its tobacco-stained fingers and long nails through a great pile of white buttons. Just plain white buttons—the kind that keep coming off little Willie's shirt. But it is this little pile of white buttons which wins or loses hundreds or even thousands of dollars on a long ocean trip and over which men of all races bend with breathless interest while the count is made.

Buttons Tell Tale

The players place their money on the numbers in the center of the table which run from one to four. A second Chinese, keeper of the money till, makes a noise like someone in pain, then the Cantonese counts the buttons in groups of four. At the end of the count the number of buttons left wins. If two buttons are extra the men placing money on No. 2 win and receive three times the amount placed. If one button is left No. 1 wins and so on game after game.

Hundreds of dollars are won during the trip and hundreds lost. Often the young men gamble away their expense money and arrive in a strange port with just enough change to pay their boat tips, while seamen lose or treble their wages for the trip. According to an Indian of high caste who was educated in Europe and America and who is a devotee of fan tan, the man with the long purse will win in the end, for he can play until he regains his losses, but the man with the short purse should resist the call of the capricious lady of fan tan as he would the luring song of the heartless Circe of old.

Real Estate Men Urged to Aid In Membership Drive

Special to The Glendale Evening News.

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—The membership drive of the California Real Estate association will culminate on Thursday, October 27, when every member is asked to devote a half-day to building up the association's enrollment.

The directors of the association endorsed the drive and agreed to give the time from 9 to 12 o'clock next Thursday morning in behalf of the state work. A proclamation was issued by the directors to the membership inviting their co-operation.

The state association whose headquarters are at Oakland has a membership of nearly 1300. More than 400 members were added during August when many real estate men availed themselves of the refund of the 1917 fee to join the association.

There are thirty-five real estate boards in California, and the list will be increased to forty by the first of the year. Every city of 2000 or 3000 or more is entitled to a real estate board and brokers are showing deep interest in joining the association.

FROM CIRCUS PRESS AGENT

STERLING, Colo.—Two buffalo wandered down the main street looking for their mud wallow of years ago. Not finding it, they lay down and calmly eyed their audience until captured and taken back to the circus grounds.

Rome's first public library was founded by Julius Caesar. His early death ended his ambition to secure the most complete collection of writings of that period.

'Broken Hearts' Cost Less, by Court Verdict

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Even the price of "broken hearts" is coming down. A jury in superior court has awarded Miss Margaret Lavezzorio, pretty stenographer, $15,000 damages against Amerigo F. Cuno, son of a millionaire commission merchant, for wrecking her heart. Another jury gave her $30,000 a year ago, but the court set aside the sum as unreasonable. The trial was the result of an appeal against the court's ruling. Miss Lavezzorio sued both times for $50,000.

"If We Were Billy Sunday

—We would preach one sermon on the text, 'Blessed are they who are good to themselves,' and it would be a sermon on saving, old age planning, thrift, prudence, and we'd make it stick.

"We Americans are a great people, and we admit it. We fly higher, run faster and dig deeper than the rest of the world, and we build an upholstered touring car every time the clock ticks. The sun shines for us alone.

"But when it comes to real thrift and the saving of money for the lean days that come to all of us, we are the rear end of the procession. Our savings are only two per cent of our national wealth, as against three per cent in other countries. The average for 24 nations, including the United States, is $158 per Savings Account.

"That little country, Tunis, bossed by France, shows an average Savings Account of $784, and compared with our standards the Tunis folks never saw real prosperity and high wages, and probably never will.

"Take it home to yourself. Make it as personal as you please. You can save and have, or be poor to your dying day—worse than poor, dependent.

"You can save—YOU CAN. And a dollar at a time in a Savings Account so fixes you that by and by you can purchase a bond, or a share of preferred stock, or a bit of ground, and your feet are on the earth and you are headed for comparative independence.

"On Savings Accounts we pay 4 per cent interest and compute it twice annually. You can start with a single dollar."

On Special Savings Accounts we pay 3 per cent and allow checking privilege.

We can help you save, and make your savings earn interest for you.

MRS. R. M. BRADLEY, AGE 92, TELLS OF POET WHITTIER

Cousin of S. F. Smith, Author of 'America,' Resides Here Has Treasured Relics

Mrs. Rebecca Morse Bradley, 428 North Jackson street, a relative of Samuel B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, and a cousin of S. F. Smith, author of "America," is today enjoying having added a month to her ninety-third year, she having celebrated her ninety-second birthday just a month ago today, September 20. For one of her age Mrs. Bradley is in comparatively good health, her only infirmity being a slight imperfection of eyesight. Otherwise she enjoys life as much as many who are considerably younger, and she is occasionally seen walking about the yard enjoying the sunshine.

Mrs. Bradley is a descendant of the Morse family, a near relative of Samuel B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, and a cousin of S. F. Smith, author of "America." Among her many treasured possessions is an autographed copy of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and it is a pleasant memory for her to recall having had the pleasure of reading many of Whittier's poems in the manuscript.

Weds Sea Captain

Miss Rebecca Morse Knowles was born in East Haverhill, Mass., near the birthplace of the poet, Whittier, September 20, 1829. She was united in marriage to James Bradley of Newburyport, Mass. For about forty years Mr. Bradley was a sea captain and engaged in trade with South America and the West Indies, encountering many interesting experiences during that time. Captain Bradley died about twenty years ago.

For many years Mrs. Bradley has made her home with her son, Leonard W. Bradley, 428 North Jackson street, who came to California about sixteen years ago, later moving here from San Diego, a year ago. She is firmly convinced that the climate of California has been an important factor in prolonging her life and keeping her so well preserved.

Has Birthday Party

Besides her son, with whom she makes her home, Mrs. Bradley has two other children, Mrs. Walter A. Austin and Miss Lucy W. Bradley, both of Fitchburg, Mass. On the twentieth of last month Mrs. Bradley enjoyed a birthday party at the home of her son on North Jackson street and a large number of friends and relatives gathered for the day to extend congratulations and to hear her recall many reminiscences of her early life on the New England coast.

For one who is related to some of the leading literary and inventive geniuses in American history and one who now possesses many treasured mementoes in the form of letters and autographed manuscripts of these notables, Mrs. Bradley is very reserved.

Topic of Interest

Her acquaintance with John Greenleaf Whittier and the distinction of having read a number of his poems in the manuscript is always a topic of interesting conversation to the visitors who call to pay respects to Mrs. Bradley. The autographed copy of the national anthem and the letters from her cousin, the author, S. F. Smith, are mementoes that are becoming more and more treasured each year.

Glendale should feel proud to have for its resident one from such a remarkable family, and should feel all the more proud that that one has chosen Glendale in which to enjoy the remainder of her life.

H. F. Guthrie and E. A. Marty, youths of Whittier, are held in the county jail pending an inquest. They are alleged to have participated in the fatal right of way fight.

Second Greatest U. S. War Hero Real 'Man Killer'

IDABEL, Okla.—On a small farm in McCurtain county, thirty-five miles over rough roads from Idabel, Joseph Oklahombi, a Choctaw Indian, is hunting and fishing, raising corn and helping his neighbors at harvest time.

A half dozen persons in Idabel could be found who remembered exactly what part Oklahombi played in the World War—yet it was he who captured 171 German prisoners single-handed, and was decorated and cited by Marshal Petain of France as the second greatest American hero that the war produced. Alvin York ranked first.

Oklahombi, however, when questioned by Mrs. C. C. Conlan of the Oklahoma Historical society, who also is a Choctaw, saw nothing peculiar in this lack of recognition, he said. He did only his duty, he added, and is now back home with his wife and baby—carrying on as his forefathers carried on. Oklahombi is a full blood.

His name, taken from the Choctaw, means in their language "man-killer," according to an interpreter. It is not directly connected with the name Oklahoma, which is a combination of two Choctaw words.

Oklahombi was enrolled in Company D, One Hundred Forty-first infantry, Twenty-sixth division, as a private, 26 years old. When he enlisted he could not speak English, but that he could speak the language of warfare in fighting for his country is evidenced by the wording of the citation from General Petain, after which he received the Croix de Guerre.

The citation reads: "Under a violent barrage he dashed to the attack of the enemy position covering two hundred yards through barbed wire entanglements. He rushed on machine gun nests, capturing 171 prisoners. He stormed a strongly held position containing a number of trench mortars, turned the captured guns on the enemy and held said position for four days, in spite of a constant barrage of large projectiles and gas shells. He crossed 'No Man's Land' many times to get information concerning his wounded comrades."

Asked what he thought of the army, with a smile he replied: "Too much salute—not enough shoot," Mrs. Conlin said.

BIG REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES IS EXPECTED

Commerce Commission About Ready to Make Order, Is Belief at Washington

By HARRY WARD
Written for International News Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The Interstate Commerce commission will order a material reduction in freight rates within the next few days, well informed observers believed today. They premise their beliefs on these grounds:

First—President Harding and at least two members of his cabinet—Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace—openly favor rate reduction. The president has expressed the opinion that conditions seem to call for reductions in the rates on "heavy loading commodities."

Second—Secretary Hoover is of the opinion that there has been no reduction in railroad rates to correspond with reductions in commodity prices paid to farmers and manufacturers.

Third—Secretary Wallace has told the Interstate Commerce commission the farmers must have a reduction in freight rates or the agricultural industry would go bankrupt.

Fourth—The commission has concluded extended hearings on complaints asking for reductions in freight rates on grain and grain products. Granting of reduced rates in these cases, it is believed, would be the entering wedge in a general reduction of freight rates.

The grain inquiry hearing of the commission which extended over three weeks covered the western and mountain-Pacific groups of railroads and the decision in this case is believed to be imminent. The main contention in this case, which was brought on the complaint of the Kansas railroad commission, is that grain is paying more in freight rates than any other comparable commodity. Considerable stress was laid on the fact that the farmer in Minnesota gets less than 15 cents an hour for his labor and no returns on his land, and that the story was worse in other states.

Mrs. Obenchain's Case Once More Continued

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—In his first open court tilt with the district attorney's office, Ralph Obenchain, Chicago attorney, won his argument for a continuance until Saturday of the hearing to determine whether his divorced wife, Madalynne Obenchain, is to be tried jointly with Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

Obenchain asked for and won the continuance in order that Attorney Charles E. Erbstein of Chicago can conduct the fight for a separate trial for Mrs. Obenchain. It was announced that Erbstein was expected here before the end of the week to take charge of her defense.

In granting the continuance, Superior Judge Reeve exacted a promise from the defense not to ask for a delay in the opening of the trial, set for November 1.

Advancement Hopes Are Expressed by Japanese Official

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
Written for International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Every effort should be made by the forthcoming disarmament conference in Washington to make "it impossible for any nation to resort to arms for the advancement of its ambitions," Vice-Admiral K. Kato, president of the Japanese Naval college, declared here Tuesday afternoon. Vice-Admiral Kato heads the naval section of the Japanese delegation to the Harding conference and arrived from Japan on the Korea Maru with the advance guard of the Japanese conference representatives.

"It may be too utopian," Admiral Kato said, "to hope that the objective of the conference shall be the absolute prevention of all wars, but it shall be uppermost in the minds of all those taking part that through the agencies of this conference the greatest strides possible may be taken toward that common good.

"While it is yet impossible to forecast the general trend of the world, Japan, the United States and Great Britain, facing each other across the great Atlantic and Pacific oceans, should utilize the natural advantages of their island domains and possessions and ocean highways, not for the purpose of war and hostilities, but for the advancement of free communication and mutual realization of the fruits of civilization."

English Newspaper Preaches Sermon to U. S. on Imperialism

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette, which is very close to Premier Lloyd George, preaches a sermon to America upon the subject of imperialism.

"If America is bent upon an attempt to secure domination in the Pacific, we are afraid she will have to do as other nations have done—take the risks and costs upon her own shoulders," said the newspaper.

The editorial was based upon a recent article by an American publicist and historian who had declared the United States "has become imperialistic and is determined to have the 'open door' in China 'if it has to fight for it.'" The American writer intimated that the United States expected the support of the British delegation on this issue at the Washington conference.

"It is very difficult to conceive of this country lending its power and prestige to make America dictator of the Far East where she has done but little pioneer work in the way of commercial development," said the Pall Mall Gazette.

Slayer Gives Himself Up to Be Lynched

EDMONTON, Alta.—The "unwritten law" is not exclusively a white man's statute. A strange tale of a lynching by Eskimos on the Arctic coast has been brought down by Corp. E. N. Cornelius, recently returned from Herschel island and Coronation gulf.

Ahak murdered Agluetuk in Konghermust. This village lies far to the east of Fort McPherson, an outpost of the Hudson's Bay company. The murder, it is said, was in cold blood. Ahak went off across the tundra on a hunting expedition. For months he hunted muskox and caribou.

No shouts of welcome greeted him. The village folk were silent. As he strode among the huts they cast black looks upon him. Ahak knew the meaning. He went to his igloo and arrayed himself in his best garments. Then he sat down and waited. The villagers found him sitting—motionless. Their leader started to make a speech. Ahak silenced him. Speeches were useless. He stepped outside and pointed out a deerhide rope, coiled. Silently, Kasahovi Amokuku, strongest man of the village, placed a noose about Ahak's neck and strangled him. They left him dead on the snow.

Corporal Cornelius arrested Kasahovi and Amokuku and took them to Herschel Island. The two Eskimos will be brought out to civilization for trial next spring.

Twenty Millions Loot of Promoters, Claimed

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—From $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 may have been lost by investors through the operation of three asbestos mining promoters for whom warrants charging fraud have been issued, it was declared by H. E. Pettit, formerly an official of the mining companies.

A. E. Minimum, said to be the "get rich quick Wallingford" of the combination, is under arrest at Globe, Arizona.

Henry Heinsius, another of the promoters, is missing from his apartment here.

Henry E. Hansen, Decatur, Illinois, has promised, through his attorney, to surrender.

According to Pettit and Attorney W. G. Thon, who represents a number of stockholders, the victims of the "asbestos kings," include bankers, lawyers and shrewd mining men as well as working people who gave up their savings. It is charged that against the millions of dollars of stock and mortgage bonds sold in the three "mining companies" only a few tons of asbestos were actually mined.

MULE WANDERS, $200 FINE

CHICAGO—Ignatz Weizell was fined $200 because his mule, Maud, grazed in neighbors' yards. The neighbors said it wasn't Maud's fault, but being a wise and hungry mule he was willing to listen to reason when Ignatz advised her to go out for dinner.

EDUCATIONAL WORK FOR METHODISTS NOW OUTLINED

Carl C. Seitter Tells About Elaborate Program Ready for Glendale People

"The idea of the moment is to put religious education on as firm a foundation as public education. This requires trained workers, adequate equipment, well planned programs and sufficient financial and moral support from the congregation."

The speaker was Carl C. Seitter, director of religious education of the First Methodist church. In his office on the north side of the church at Kenwood and Wilson avenues he outlined his work and the program for the coming year with great enthusiasm.

Mr. Seitter is a recent graduate from University Southern California where he majored in theology and kindred subjects. His father, Rev. C. F. Seitter, was pastor of the First Methodist church of Redlands until the annual conference of the Methodist church when he was transferred to the First Methodist church at Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Seitter live at 119 North Louise street. Mr. Seitter recently joined the Southern California Conference of the Methodist church. He has been taking a hand in the activities of the local church for several months.

Something Entirely New

"This church is trying to introduce something entirely new at this time," declared Mr. Seiter. "The plan has been tried in other places with a great deal of success. All of the down-town churches of Pasadena, the First Methodist church of San Diego, the First Methodist church of Long Beach and several of the down town churches of Los Angeles are using the system. The movement is widespread throughout the east and has come out to the coast recently within the last five or six years.

"The first step of the program as it will be followed this year will be the Fall School of Religious Education. This opens on the second of November, will continue ten Wednesday nights and close on January 4. Examinations will be given and those qualifying will be sent diplomas from the headquarters of the Methodist Board of Sunday School in Chicago.

"The evening will be divided into three parts: Four classes will be held 7:15 to 8 o'clock. From 8 to 8:45 regular prayer meeting will be held with special discussion under the leadership of Dr. C. M. Crist. The third period from 8:45 to 9:30 will be a general assembly.

Strong Faculty Secured

"A strong faculty has been secured for this school of religious instruction. Among the outstanding figures may be mentioned:

Mrs. Mary Muffley Morehouse of the Methodist Board of Sunday Schools of Chicago. She will give a course on the relation of the home to the program of religious education.

"Rev. G. Bromley Oxnam, pastor of the Church of All Nations, Los Angeles, will conduct a course on the social application of the Bible. Last Tuesday night he was the speaker of the evening at the banquet of the Federated Brotherhood.

"Other courses will be offered in definite teacher training. All teachers of the Sunday school will be expected to be in attendance. There are now about fifty teachers and officers in this church.

"At the opening of the second semester of school it is planned to commence a simple and rather unpretentious plan of week-day religious instruction. This will be in the form of an experiment. Its purpose will be to supplement the course of study through the sixth grade with a city-wide program of religious instruction. Classes will meet one afternoon a week after school hours. The text books used will be the Abbington Series of Week-Day Religious Educational Tasks, edited by Dr. George Herbert Betts, professor of religious education at the University of Southern California. Teachers for this school will be selected from among those who qualify at the Fall School of Religious Education. The classes will discuss Biblical, missionary and health topics.

Vacation Bible School

"Co-ordinated with this course will be the daily vacation Bible school to be held at the church during the summer months next year similar to the one held this summer.

"Within the church school itself a definite program of graded missionary instruction and social service activities is being inaugurated. Promotions are being based upon work done. Report cards are being given in some departments already and will be given in all soon.

"The church as a whole will undertake an extensive recreational program throughout the winter. It is the plan to hold entertainment features of community interest at least every other week. Later they may be held oftener. Musicians of the highest type, lecturers of widespread reputation, dramatic and novelty acts will be secured from time to time. The first entertainment under the new program has already been given. Mr. and Mrs. Staples, artists with crayon and sand, recently presented a very enjoyable program.

Community Sings

"Four dates have been booked with the Midland Lyceum Bureau of Des Moines, Iowa. A DeWills concert will be given on November 1; the LaSalle Male Quartette will be here November 22; Ernest Powell will give a lecture on December 27, and the Ringsdorff Concert company will appear here January 24. Tickets for this course are $2.00.

"Community sings will be organized. Programs of home talent will be given for which there will be nominal charges of just enough to defray expenses.

"Boys' club work is being launched at the present time. Two organizations will be used to care for the boys. The Boy Scouts will comprise the boys in the intermediate department between the ages of 12 to 14 while the High Y will serve the boys of the senior department between the ages of 15 to 17. The leaders of these groups have not been selected.

"Girls' clubs will be organized on the same basis in connection with the Camp Fire Girls and the Girl Reserves.

Board of Recreation

"A board of recreation, consisting of one member from each organization in the church, will meet about once every two months and outline the social activities so that class socials will not interfere with each other and so that the folk in the Sunday school will have something to look forward to all the time instead of having the parties come together in a bunch.

"Some new features are being added to the church to make the morning service more accessible to all. A nursery in the ladies' parlor on the south side of the church will care for the babies. A runway from the Kenwood street sidewalk will enable mothers to wheel baby buggies right into the nursery. A kindergarten and story hour in the basement of the church will provide entertainment and instruction for the smaller children.

"The children of junior age, from 8 to 11, will asemble with the regular congregation until the time of the sermon. Then a short children's sermon by Dr. Crist will be preached for their benefit and they will pass through the aisle at the north side of the church into the Sunday school department at the rear where they will attend classes in denominational and church history.

Preparatory Class First

"The church polity provides that children being received into the church must be received first into preparatory membership. After they have passed through a three-year class, they will receive full membership in the church and will then attend the full morning services. This work will be under the direction of Miss Bessie Ross, one of Glendale's school teachers who has carried on similar instruction in Junior League work.

"A board of religious education has the administration of the new program of church activities in hand. This board was elected at the quarterly conference of the church on September 28. It meets monthly. Besides Dr. Crist and myself the other members of this board are: A. W. Tower, superintendent of the Sunday school; Dr. H. V. Brown, J. B. Clark, C. S. McKee and C. W. Ingledue."

DRIVE WILL START TO SECURE $4000 FOR BOY SCOUTS

Roy L. Kent, Secretary for Glendale Organization, Is Confident of Success

A drive will be started about the middle of next month in the interest of the Boy Scout organization, it is announced by Roy L. Kent, 522 North Central avenue, secretary of the Glendale committee. The drive will be made to raise $4000 for carrying on the work of the organization, states Mr. Kent, and should the campaign be put through to a successful finish it will mean a First Council for the local Scouts.

Glendale now has a Boy Scout membership of ninety, says Mr. Kent, but with the drive being made a success the organization will be enlarged in all its branches of work and the membership increased many times its present enrollment.

On account of the contemplated drive next month the local organization will probably not make any arrangements for the observance of Roosevelt's birthday, October 27, it is announced.

Memorial Pilgrimage

This year the Boy Scouts of America, through the executive board has authorized the undertaking of a scout memorial pilgrimage to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt on October 29, the event to be similar to the one conducted last year. The organization has also voted to encourage the celebration of Roosevelt's birthday in co-operation with local organizations and the Roosevelt Memorial association.

Throughout the country Roosevelt's birthday will be observed in various ways, the event to partake of the nature of mass meetings, patriotic gatherings, tree planting and dedication, or any form of ceremony that will perpetuate the memory of Roosevelt and instill in the minds of the young scouts the ideals for which the late colonel stood.

Council Asks Aid

Colonel Roosevelt was intensely interested in Boy Scout work and, during his lifetime, was honored by the title of Chief Scout Citizen. The National council has asked the cooperation of the Roosevelt Memorial association and has conferred with Hermann Hagedorn, Roosevelt's friend and biographer, in formulating plans for a nation-wide Scout movement.

The contemplated drive in the interest of the Boy Scout organization for a budget of $4000 has no connection with the Y. M. C. A. drive that will be started the first of next week to raise $4000 for the Glendale district Y. M. C. A. budget, it is explained.

Says Immigration Has No Place In Meeting

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The United States holds that the question of immigration has no place in the forthcoming discussions of limitation of armament and far east problems, it was stated at the state department.

The United States will use all its influence to keep discussion of immigration out of the conference and will insist that the agenda as agreed upon be followed.

The administration is proceeding under the assumption that Japan recognizes that immigration will not be brought up in the conference and discredits dispatches from Tokio, declaring the Japanese delegation will force this issue before the parley, it was said.

It was pointed out that unanimous consent will be necessary to change the agenda of the conference and such a ruling will be apt to effectually bar immigration discussions.

One of the invited powers, it is understood, has suggested that provision be made for the extension of the agenda, after the conference opens, but this suggestion will be left to the delegates themselves for decision as the occasion arises.

Convicted Pastor Will Be Tried by Ministers

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Oct. 21.—Rev. W. W. Breckenridge and Rev. W. H. Oxtoby today were preparing charges against Rev. John A. Spencer, "little pastor," convicted of having murdered his wife, preparatory to his ousting from the Benecia Presbytery of the Presbyterian church following a meeting of that body here. The charge will be filed at a special meeting of the Presbytery on Tuesday at which a trial date will be set. Spencer is now serving a life sentence in San Quentin and will be unable to appear to answer to the charges.

Rubber Collar Saves Oil Man From Snake

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas — William J. Shoupe, oil field worker, solemnly swore to wear rubber collars the rest of his life.

Shoupe was driving alone in his flivver when engine trouble developed.

He got out and got under.

As he was working under the lifeless engine he felt a pecking against his rubber collar.

He grabbed a monkey wrench and killed a rattlesnake with four rattles.

The collar was soiled but not damaged.

The city corporation of London has named one of its streets for Samuel Pepys the quaint diarist.

'Glendale Gardens' Subdivision to Be Placed Upon Market

A twenty-acre subdivision, known as "Glendale Gardens," bounded by the San Fernando Road, Vine avenue, Fourth street and Thompson avenue, will be placed on the market the first of next month, it is announced by the Roy L. Kent company, 130 South Brand boulevard.

Street improvements will start at that time on the subdivision says Mr. Kent, and the lots will then be ready for the purchasers, and he added that the entire property, consisting of 24 business lots and 96 residence lots would soon be sold.

The improvements will consist of sidewalks, curbings, with facilities for water, light and gas. A new street, midway between Vine and Thompson avenues, will be opened joining the San Fernando Road and Fourth street.

It is not expected lots on this new sub-division will last long, says Mr. Kent, as the property has every convenience to be found, including proximity to the car line, with modern improvements.

In commenting on "The Glen-Gardens," Mr. Kent said: "Lots in the city of Glendale are increasing in price steadily, but we are going to put some of these lots on the market at a price which will make them popular with everyone who desires to purchase property in the city.

"With all modern improvements the whole subdivision should not last long on the market. The lots will be placed on the market about the first of next month when the city begins its work on street improvements.

"The construction of a business section on the San Fernando Road, at the intersection of the new street, is being contemplated."

Britain's Unemployment Serious, Says Premier

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Plans to obviate unemployment by assisting British trade were announced in the House of Commons by Premier Lloyd George. The premier announced a scheme for the expansion of export credits, the exporter assuming a percentage of the risk. Especial attention was given to textile manufacturers.

The credit area will be extended from the empire to foreign countries, the premier said. In special cases credit of five and six years' duration will be allowed. Special trading facilities abroad will be provided where credit is ample without government guarantees.

The premier said that interruption of trade and the depression of money on the international exchange markets had brought about the most serious unemployment crisis of a century. It was imperative, the premier added, that Great Britain's foreign commerce be revived at the earliest possible moment.

Declares United States Is Leader In Armament

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Allegations that the United States "is leading the world in naval armament" and that the American people are uninformed of the state of affairs, were made when "labor's armament conference" resumed its sessions.

In order that the people be informed of the present state of affairs, Charles Edward Russell, former Socialist, and writer on economic subjects, introduced the following resolution, which was adopted and then referred to the committee on resolutions:

"Resolved, That the people of the United States have their attention called to the fact that the United States is leading he world in naval armament and as such is setting the pace for naval construction."

Southern Pacific Will Ask Further Wage Drop

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—That the Southern Pacific railroad will apply to the United States Labor board for a further reduction in wages of employes, despite the threatened nation-wide strike and regardless of the attitude of the union brotherhoods, was stated here today by J. H. Dyer, general manager in charge of operation of that system. Dyer also issued a warning to employes in which he declared no man who goes out on strike will be put back again on the company's payroll.

"When a man withdraws from the train service, he's out," Mr. Dyer declared. "We have been receiving applications from former railroad employes for over a month, and those positions made vacant will be filled from the ranks of these men who are more than anxious to secure work.

"I made it my business during my trip west to talk to the men individually, and from all I have been able to learn the sentiment is opposed to a walkout. The older men seemed to hold an opinion that the younger employes were responsible for the strike agitation."

Physical Encounter In House Is Just Averted

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—The house was thrown into confusion and a physical encounter loomed Tuesday afternoon when Representative Blanton of Texas, called Representative Burke of Pennsylvania a "liar."

"You are a liar and a dirty dog," was the retort of Blanton.

Burke had charged misrepresentation in a speech which Blanton was making in which the Texan accused the railroad brotherhood chiefs of inciting insurrection against the United States in calling the railroad strike.

The sergeant at arms intervened and restored peace. Blanton apologized for his remarks and Burke opened a defense of the railroad brotherhoods.

LOCAL MAN TELLS LIFE HISTORY OF PHONOGRAPH

John C. Ray, in Business From Beginning, Gives Number Interesting Facts

By ART SHERBORNE

Glendale is the home of many authorities on various subjects. Among them is John C. Ray, 1018 North Louise street, sales promotion manager for the Columbia Phonograph company, who has been connected with the talking machine industry since its youth in 1901, and recently left his position as assistant to the vice president of the company in New York City to come to the western territory.

Mr. Ray is one of the best informed men in the country on the development of the phonograph, having shared in its development. Each week he drops in to the Kenny Music Store, 203 North Brand boulevard to have a chat with W. A. Kenny. The following is the result of an interview given on one of these calls:

"It may be of interest to know that the first phonograph was developed in Washington, D. C., and from the moment it was born the reproduction of 'all the music of all the world' was possible on the Columbia.

They Taught World

"The first song was sung some thirty-five years ago and the man who perfected the recording and reproducing machine, to the surprise of the average person, was Alexander Graham Bell, the man who invented the telephone. Dr. Chichester Bell and Charles Sumner Tainter worked with him on the experiments.

"The letters patent were issued in 1886 covering their combined discoveries. Upon this basic patent rests the talking machine industry. On the same day letters were granted to Mr. Tainter alone for a method of duplicating or copying records. Dr. Bell and Mr. Tainter taught the world how to make sound records and Mr. Tainter taught it how to copy or duplicate them.

"These patents were acquired by the American Graphophone company, now the Columbia Graphophone company, which thus became the owner of the fundamental patents and the pioneers and leaders of the phonograph industry.

Patents Are Attacked

"The first machines were called graphophones and were laboratory models. The company was the first to manufacture and sell a practicable equipped talking machine and interchangeable machine records. The patents were attacked by many other manufacturers, but all were compelled to recognize the validity of the claims after repeated judicial decisions.

"In a spirit of great liberality the Columbia company granted to other companies licenses without which they could not have operated. As the Columbia company advanced the industry advanced step by step.

"All early types of phonographs were electrically driven and were unsightly as well as dangerous as storage batteries had to be used, electricity at that time not being generally furnished to homes. The invention of the spring motor was therefore developed by Thomas Hood MacDonald, who for sixteen years later, was manager of our factory. The motor in practically every spring motor talking machine in use today is modeled on the principles of this motor.

Changes Disc Making

"Next comes the Jones patent. This adapted the cutting and engraving process described by Bell and Tainter to the making of a zig-zag record. This patent revised the making of disc records and is in use today by practically every record making concern. The various courts of the country upheld the validity of these patents in many furiously assailed cases.

"The systems of making records are known as the 'lateral cut system,' which is used by practically all manufacturers, where the sound waves are recorded on the side of the grooves, while in the other method, which is known as the 'hill and dale system,' the sounds are inscribed on the bottom of the groove. It is a matter of general opinion and the consensus of experts that the lateral cut records give a truer reproduction.

"The double disc records were ultimately produced by the American Graphophone company.

Many Improvements

"Many patents are granted yearly on improvements for phonographs and the manufacture of records, many of which are freaks. Regardless of this fact each patent is thoroughly examined by our company and any which are of interest immediately secured.

"One of the greatest features of the present modern Columbia graphophone is its automatic non-set stop on which hundred of basic patents are held which prohibit the use of this feature on other phonographs. Other phonographs have automatic stops which must be set every time a new record is placed on the turntable.

"Special points to be found in the Columbia and which are based on fundamental patents are exclusive tone leaves, controlling the reproduction of various records, exclusive one-piece straight metal tone arm resulting in tone of perfect clearness and purity; exclusive stream-line cabinets which have been in style for the past three years; and the exclusive non-set automatic stop.

Few Machines Made

"The first manufacture was undertaken in 1887 in a factory started at Bridgeport, Conn., my home town. This turned out three or four machines a day. One day it turned out five—but the whole force worked until nearly midnight.

"There are now thirty or more plants scattered over the United States and Canada. Where plants are building cabinets the motors are shipped in most instances to them from the Bridgeport factory and installed in the cabinet as it becomes ready. Each cabinet is examined by an inspector employed by the company in the white, after being carnished and rubbed and when finished also. The motors are inspected thoroughly before leaving the factory and before being assembled in the cabinets.

"The Columbia Graphophone company was the first to develop the period phonographs which are constructed to harmonize with period furniture.

Artists Secured First

"The making of a Columbia record begins long before the first note sounds in the recording laboratory. First, Columbia artists must be secured. Each name that finally appears in the catalog means that from 150 to 200 artists have tried and failed. It is not only necessary that they should be vocalists or musicians but their personality, reputation, social and professional side must be taken into consideraton. One man in the employ of the company spends his entire life thinking, dreaming and studying grand opera and its stars. His eyes scan the press of the world for all that is written upon music. One big artist was trailed for three years before his name appeared on the dotted line of the contract. Another person is detailed to the theatre and its artists, and so on.

"The main recording laboratory is now located in the Gotham Bank building, Columbus circle, New York City. Here opera singers, concert artists and vaudeville songsters and many domestic and foreign organizations go to make the original wax. This recording laboratory has many recording rooms which are acoustically constructed making them adaptable for the various talent interested. There is a difference in these recording rooms. One will be suitable for a band; another for a soprano and a third for some other purpose.

Must Be Diplomatic

"It is a polyglot crowd that comes to the recording laboratory. The men in the laboratory are managers for all the world. They deal in temperament. They must be diplomats to the finger tips. They must study and satisfy every variety of personal idiosyncrasy. They must be prepared to meet any situation that may arise at a moment's notice and settle them amicably and cheerfully. A famous prima donna is scheduled to record; the orchestra is ready—at the last moment comes a telephone call saying that 'Madame' is indisposed. The appointment must be cancelled but the whole orchestra must be paid for the day.

"So-called popular music must be examined before it is issued and judgment passed as to whether or not the public is going to respond when the sheet music is published. This is no mean task.

"Every record is a new problem in acoustics. Laboratory managers and conductors determine by endless experiments just how much of each bank of instruments shall be included in each record. For hours at a time they shift the instruments about to get perfect balance in harmony, changing the distance from the great horns and seating some musicians on chairs on the floor and some on high seats just under the ceiling. Each actual record maker has had from eighteen to twenty years experience in this art. When you consider that each cut in a record must be exactly two and one-half one thousandths of an inch deep and that precision depends absolutely on the eye and ear of the trained record maker, you realize that this exercise in judgment is far more exacting than making the delicate mechanism of a watch.

Handled Like Babies

"The wax blank upon which records are made are received from the Bridgeport factory. They are shipped twelve to fourteen in each trunk, swaddled as carefully as though they were babies covered with what looks like grandmothers' quilts to preserve them from the slightest jar.

"These discs are about as large as a good size pie. They look like immense round cakes of chocolate. After receipt they are prepared on a lathe and turned to the desired thickness. Then a keen edged sapphire knife brings the surface to a high polish. At last the disc is so sensitive that even a finger mark would ruin it. Then it is placed in an electrically heated cabinet and kept at the right temperature until wanted.

"When everything is ready and the horns which focus the sound are in place, the musicians are summoned from their rest rooms, they take their places, a red light flashes, the conductor's baton sweeps up and down, the orchestra plays the opening measure and the singer begins. Intense silence is observed as the recording machine is so sensitive that it records the slightest sound. Once a spectator's cane fell while a recording was in progress. The record had to be made all over again.

By Special Messenger

"The master record is carefully examined by the experienced recorders and if it appears O. K. it is packed and sent by special messenger to the Bridgeport factory. Here it is coated with graphite and placed in an electro-plating solution where under proper conditions it receives a copper deposit upon its surface. In the factory may be seen thousands of jars of about 14 inches wide, 5 inches thick and 14 inches wide, 5 inches tain master records each with its paddle keeping the solution in motion. One thirty-second of an inch of copper must be deposited before the wax master record is removed from the bath.

"The copper shell is easily and quickly removed and is known as a master matrix or a 'positive.' From this other records are made by the same electrotyping process. These are known as 'mother records.' From these additional shells or "stampers' are obtained by the same process. These 'stampers' now become dies from which are made the famous Columbia records.

Locked Up in Vault

"Meanwhile, the master matrix has been carefully locked up in a great vault where it is always available for the production of more records should the demand sweep the country, as so often happens. Each tender shell has a backing of steel plate and each copper shell has a thin coating of nickle plate over its copper face, enabling it to resist wear and tear.

"The Columbia company has experimented in its laboratory with various kinds of metals and substances and to the present time has found no suitable substitute for the thin coating of nickel plate over its the least wear and tear on records, and if only used once the life of all records will be greatly increased. There is a demand for a permanent needle and when the proper material is secured, it will be adopted by the Columbia."

Denies Japan Is Rushing Work Upon Many War Vessels

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 21.—Before departing for Washington with the advance guard of Japan's delegation to the disarmament conference, Vice-Admiral H. Kato, heading the Naval section of the delegation, denied that Japan on the eve of the conference is rushing to completion a large number of war vessels.

"The ships now being launched," he said, "are part of the program of 1920, decided on some time ago. We will not only reduce our naval appropriation next year, but will also put out of service our second squadron this coming December. We intend to do this no matter what happens at the Washington conference.

Mrs. W. L. Andrews Is Hostess, Drama Section

The drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, of which Mrs. R. E. Chase is curator, held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the beautiful new home of Mrs. W. L. Andrews, which is located in the foothills of Burbank, with about twenty-five members present.

The reading of "Quality Street" (Barrie) was taken up by Mrs. Chase. Plans were discussed regarding the evening of three one-act plays to be given by the section the evening of November 18 at the Glendale Theatre for the benefit of the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse fund. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the section will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Roger Bentley. At that time the history of the Chinese drama will be taken up. This will be the beginning of the study of the drama of different nations which will be taken up by the section.

Work of Salvaging to Be Furthered In City

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 246 North Orange street, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and Mrs. John Everson, chairman of the children's hospital committee of that organization, attended a luncheon yesterday at the Alexandria in the interests of the Children's Hospital Society. The work of salvaging was particularly emphasized by the speakers present. The Glendale committee has decided to make an attempt to organize a program of salvaging, particularly of tinfoil, and are going to ask permisson to place boxes in prominent parts of the city for the collection of tinfoil. In this manner a large amount of money can be raised for the work at this institution.

For the past two years this work of salvaging has been going on in the southern section of Glendale under the direction of Mrs. E. V. Bacon, Miss E. B. Churchill and Miss M. E. Moulton, but nothing in the central and northern sections of the city.

CLEANS SILVER

To keep plated silver clean and bright without constant cleaning, which is so injurious to plated articles, dissolve a small handful of borax in a basin with a little hot water and a little soap, put the silver in and let it stand for three or four hours; then pour off the suds, rinse with clean, cold water, and wipe with a soft cloth.

PERSONAL INSPECTION

An Irish captain inspecting his company noticed that one of his soldiers had neglected to wash either the back of his neck or his ears. "Hi, you!" he called to him, "you haven't washed yourself at the back! Rightabout face and look at yourself."

TWO LOCAL ARTISTS ARE FEATURED ON CLUB PROGRAM

Music Organization Will Give Entertainment Tonight In School Auditorium

A musical program which among other numbers will feature two local artists will be given tonight in the music room of the high school under the auspices of the Glendale Music club, of which Mrs. Mattison B. Jones is president, and which will be for active and affiliate members of that organization. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock and has been arranged by Mrs. Spencer Robinson. There will be a meeting of the executive board at 7:30 o'clock.

The two local artists who will appear will be Keaumoki A. Lewis, concert baritone, and Mrs. Enona Hopkins, harpist.

Mr. Lewis is a pupil of Thorna, who was the teacher of Galli-Curci and Rosa Ponselles, as well as other noted singers. Mr. Lewis has appeared in recitals and opera in the large eastern cities and toured with the great Constantino.

Active In Club Work

Mrs. Hopkins is a pupil of Tramonti. She is an active member of the Glendale Music Club and will be pleasantly remembered as having taken a prominent part in the program given by that organization in May. She is also a member of the Arion Quartet of Chicago in which city she formerly resided. The Arion quartet, which also includes Neva Chilberg, first violin; Mamie Smith, second violin, and Marion Matthews, cello, will give several numbers at tonight's concert, the program of which includes the following:

"The Swan" (Saint-Saens) "Adoration" (Borowski) by the Arion quartet; selected, harp solo, by Mrs. Enona Hopkins; "Aria" from "Pagliacci," "I Love Thee" (Grieg) and "Dodossente" from "Faust," by Keaumoki A. Lewis.

The Glendale Music club, which was organized and federated February 28, 1921, now has a membership of 514, including the junior and juvenile auxiliaries, the senior club having 365, junior 85, and juvenile 65. This organization has done much in establishing Glendale as a music center, as it is now becoming known throughout the state. The official bulletin for November, 1921, of the California Federation of Music Clubs devotes fully two columns to the Glendale Music club and auxiliaries, telling the history from the organization of the club to the present time.

Here Are Officers

The officers of the Glendale Music club are as follows: Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president; Mrs. Catherine Shank, first vice president; Mrs. Spencer Robinson, second vice president; Mrs. L. N. Hagood, recording secretary; Mrs. Clarles L. Marlenee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Warren Roberts, treasurer; Mrs. Vivian Webb, financial secretary; Spencer Robinson, auditor; Mrs. Dora Gibson, Mrs. Frank Arnold and Mrs. Calvin Whiting; Miss Winifred Jones, chairman publicity committee; Mrs. Freeman Kelley, decoration; Mrs. Calvin Whiting, door; James Smith, of the Junior Music club, ushering; Mrs. Colin Cable, hospitality; Mrs. Spencer Robinson, house; Mrs. E. PREPARATIONS FOR RAILROAD STRIKE BEING RUSHED barren of results. They announced that the Board had no further plan in mind.

Preparing for Battle

The head of the "big five" Brotherhoods, as they have come to be known since the union of the switchmen with the trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen and enginemen, either had left Chicago today or were preparing to leave for Cleveland, where plans for fighting the battle that looms when the walkout comes, will be prepared.

"We stand pat" and "the strike will proceed" were their parting declarations.

The attempt of the labor board to adjust the controversy ended in failure when the heads of the brotherhoods, after several hours of conferences, walked out of the parley, asserting that the proposals submitted by the board were impossible of acceptance.

Proposal Rejected

The proposal of the labor board, which was rejected, contemplated postponement of the strike; deferring of the request of the railroads for further wage reductions and reductions of freight rates to absorb the wage cuts that became effective July 1.

It was the contention of the union leaders that the strike could not be postponed. Nothing short of a full settlement, they said, could avert the strike.

Railway executives of the western lines were to meet here today to discuss plans for combatting the strike. The executives were frankly pessimistic.

Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago & Great Western, declared that "things look bad." Hale Holden, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, declared that "the situation certainly was not improved any."

Policy Not Decided

Beyond announcing that the adjournment of the conference was "final" and that "we cannot say that any beneficial results were obtained" members of the labor board made no statement.

Railway unions separae from the "big five brotherhoods, including those that are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, continued the various conferences that have been in progress during the present week.

The policy of the federation unions has not been definitely formulated but will be threshed out at these meetings.

LITERAL YOUTH

The young man always took everything literally. He was most serious in his wooing. "May I kiss you, Jane?" he asked. "Mother's in the drawing room," she answered. "Oh, that's all right. Your father can kiss her," he replied.

Six Modern Homes Are Completed by Peerless Company

H. G. Shuck of the Peerless Home Builders & Investment company, 212 South Brand boulevard, reports that the company has completed six modern, five-room houses and practically all of them have been sold. The houses located at 701, 705, 709, 719 South Adams street, 1008 East Maple street and 1123 North Brand boulevard are modern in every respect, states Mr. Shuck, each one having five rooms and a laundry room, each being especially designed by the company, and the work throughout, including designing, building, painting and plumbing, being done by the company.

"Our workmanship and our materials are such that we always invite the public to call and inspect our houses," said Mr. Shuck. "We have several other contracts for new houses to start at once, among them being a six-room home on the Peerless tract for Dr. Dwight C. Davis of Hollywood, who is going to make his home here and who is going to be a loyal booster for Glendale. He looked all over this part of the state before purchasing and finally decided to locate in Glendale."

The Peerless Home Builders & Investment company, 212 South Brand boulevard, is under the management of H. G. Shuck, A. B. Shuck and Theo. Fleischmann.

TO CHOSE A YELL LEADER

Which of two "kids" can yell the loudest? Boys and girls as well as the faculty of the Intermediate school today are endeavoring to find out in an election in the history classes for the selection of a yell leader of the students' athletic association. The candidates are: Dana Van Loon, son of A. W. Van Loon, 125 Adams street; and Edgar David Wolbach, son of E. D. Wolbach, 910 Orange Grove avenue.

Many a man is credited with being patient when he is merely too lazy to register a kick.

D. W. Griffith's Noted Screen Success Is Shown; Great Vaudeville Saturday

Entering upon the third and last day of its run at the Glendale theatre, D. W. Griffith's motion picture triumph, "Way Down East," has enlisted a host of additional admirers of this spoken drama classic which has held sway on the American stage for the past twenty-two years. The new Griffith artistic efforts in colors, lights and effects have made a distinct impression on local screen patrons and those who show preference for the spoken stage presentation have been profoundly impressed by the manner in which this genius of the film has made of this old play a new thing with a scope of greater appeal. Not the least interest centers in the remarkable cast of interpreting players which includes Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Burr McIntosh, Mary Hays, Mrs. Morgan Belmont and a host of others equally well known to both stage and screen.

Vaudeville Bill

The vaudeville bill presented tomorrow at the Glendale Theatre by the Bert Levey circuit will have "When Caesar Marks Antony" as its headline act. It is a travesty on old Rome that has made patrons of the largest theatres in the country laugh uproariously.

Ruth Page and Company in a scenic instrumental and electrical novelty number is another high-class act from the east that is highly recommended while Barnes & Robinson in a piano sketch; Gerald and Griffin will sing and talk through 15 minutes and Anna Merrill sings sweetly. A feature film also will be shown.

Live Cole Class Will Have Social Gathering

The members of the Live Cole class of the First Christian church Sunday school will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. R. Moore of East Colorado boulevard for their regular monthly business and social gathering. A large attendance is expected.

At a recent session of the executive committee of the class, which is composed of Mrs. H. B. Miller, Mrs. Harry Marple, Mrs. R. Moore, R. B. Carlock and Rev. C. C. Cole, the question of obtaining "ways and means" to furnish the large room that will be turned over to the class when the new church building is completed, was discussed. It was decided that an entertainment of dramatization is to be given in the church building in the near future. The meeting took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carlock of 415 Lincoln avenue.

Sound is said to move at the rate of thirty miles a minute, and, compared to light, it is slower than a snail. If we should hear a clap of thunder half a minute after a flash of lightning, we could calculate that the discharge of electricity was about six and one-half miles away.

Cat Attacks Girl and Inflicts Severe Hurts

AUGUSTA, Va., Oct. 21.—Attacked by a male cat while on her way to a store, Della Lynn, 15, was severely scratched and bitten before a neighbor, hearing her screams, ran to her assistance and killed the animal. The cat leaped on the girl from the shrubbery in a cemetery. Her ankle was first bitten and when she flung the cat away, it leaped at her again and bit her on the arm. Examination of the cat's head showed it to be afflicted with rabies.
